

Zoo's Fame Attracts Canadian Visitors

LATHRUP — A visit to the famed Detroit zoo is one of the reasons the John Shales had guests last weekend though, of course, their good company was an equal inducement. Shales' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shales and his family arrived from Toronto, all set to sample the miniature train and wild life in the outdoor haven for animals.

Only John Shales had visited the zoo before so small fry Bobby, 3, and Bill, 2, and their Canadian relatives were all set for their first visit.

Dinner out was another agenda attraction—this time for the adult Shales and Lathrup neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baughman Jr.

And speaking of the Baughman's daughter Doris, made her confirmation May 8 at St. Michael Church, Southfield. Her sponsor was Mrs. Leonard Marquis who joined in the family party later at Howard Johnson restaurant.

Also with an eye beamed toward the younger generation, Mrs. Lewis Dunn and Mrs. G. E. O'Sullivan will host a dessert baby shower at the O'Sullivan home on Sunnybrook tonight. Guest of honor will be Mrs. Edw. Lundberg who will have a quartet at home when the new arrival debuts.

Guests will be Mrs. Robert Knighton, Mrs. Ned Corbett, Mrs. Paul Butcher, Mrs. John Moss, Mrs. William J. Gallagher, Mrs. Gerald Wilson, Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. John Kobi, Mrs. Arlyn Plumtree and Mrs. Walter Baughman, Jr. all of Lathrup.

Other guests will be Mrs. Robert Angove and Mrs. Robert Griffith. New baby and all Mrs. Lundberg plans to continue her work with the Girl Scouts, much to the delight of all her young friends and their mothers.

Burl Poe managed to squeeze in a trip home, in spite of duties involved in his forthcoming transfer, and arrived in plenty of time to help son Joe, 18, and daughter Jan, 12, observe not only Mother's Day but Mrs. Poe's birthday Tuesday.

The family will move in late June to San Jose, Calif., where father will take up the reins as manager of the San Jose branch of the Burroughs Corp.

The Poes have lived in Lathrup for almost seven years and Mr. and Mrs. Poe served together on the Village Dance Club this last year. Though sad about leaving friends and neighbors Mrs. Poe is

Trips, Entertaining On Local Schedules

CRANBROOK VILLAGE — Two busy households, these days are those of E. X. Tuttle Jr. and Dr. Paul F. Howe. An excursion to Greenfield Village last weekend, found Mrs. Tuttle and Mrs. Howe at the helm as chaperones for Girl Scout Troop 970. Thirteen girls toured the high spots and enjoyed a hayride and swimming. The girls meet Monday afternoons at Beverly School.

Mrs. Tuttle, who recently returned from a week's holiday in Westchester, N. Y. with her parents, says a visit to the Guggenheim Museum was "ever so interesting." Her parents are the Cecil Scotts.

And a two week naval reserve cruise aboard the destroyer USS John Paul Jones was chalked up by Tuttle not too long ago.

The Greenfield Village trip wound up late Sunday afternoon and Mrs. Howe shifted from high into higher gear to wrap up a dinner for 10 family members.

Purpose of course was to honor the doctor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Howe, who have just returned from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. and to take due note of Mother's Day for the senior Mrs. Howe.

A fishing trip was on the agenda the weekend of May 5 for Dr. Howe who boarded a bus chartered by some 25 fellow doctors. The gang headed for Canada, just north of the Soo, to try their luck at fishing.

Some 22 family members helped welcome home the father of Joe Majorana at a dinner at the latter's home on Northgate Drive recently.
