

Have you ever really compared the things that enter your mind with unassured, indigestible food? In the case of food you know that you may experience an undesirable internal condition. In the case of thoughts you likewise may experience unwanted conditions affecting your happiness. There is so much of the negative in this world's contacts that one needs stand guard at thought's door.

Elect Three To Board of NY Company

Three officers of Temprite Products Corp. of Birmingham have been elected to the board of directors of Cordley & Hayes of New York.

Ludwig E. Mose, president of Temprite; John N. Lord, secretary and director; and George S. Moule, vice president and treasurer, are the men who will serve on the board of the New York firm. Mose is a former sales manager for Worthington Pump Co. He has been with Temprite for the past 16 years. Lord was formerly president of Lee & Cady Inc., with whom he had been associated since 1933. Moule also was elected executive vice president and treasurer of Cordley & Hayes.

Christopher M. Cordley, president of the New York firm since 1928; and William J. Mays, vice president, have been re-elected to the board.

Assets of Cordley & Hayes recently were acquired by Temprite.

Murphy Appointed Gauge Sales Head

F. James Murphy, 7480 Parkstone Lane, Bloomfield Township, has been named general sales manager of the Gauge & Instrument division of Manning, Maxwell & Moore, Inc. Murphy joined the company as a sales engineer in Pittsburgh in 1949. Subsequent positions included product manager and assistant general sales manager.

Lawyer Speaks At MSU Confab

Dale A. Winnie, 136 Chewton Birmingham, of the patent law firm of Winnie, Barnard & McGlynn, recently conducted a conference discussion on patent application and disclosure writing before the professional group on engineering writing and speech of the Institute of Radio Engineers at its National Symposium conducted at Michigan State University. "The answer to current problems of accumulating and disseminating mass information in large organizations lies in large part in the techniques of clear and concise technical writing best illustrated by the properly drafted patent document," said Winnie.

Winnie also presented the views of the Hon. Arthur Smith of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals on the same subject due to Judge Smith's absence as a result of concurrent activities in Washington, D. C. pertaining to the 125th anniversary of the U. S. Patent System.

Heads JA Drive
