'Snow Ball' Theme Planned for Gala Event

NORTH ADAMS — Word of the "Snow Ball" is being passed from house to house in the Eastover School District this week by a committee of callers.

The Snow Ball, a pre-holiday dance, will begin at 9 a.m. Friday in the school's multi-purpose room. The melodies of the Ted Small Quartet will take the chill out of the winter decorations—ice and snow, sleighs and toboggans.

Each couple will receive a surprise gift. Planning the event are dance committee chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith; decorations, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Roland; refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sacra, dance clean-up, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kalfelch. Tickets may be purchased through Mr. and Mrs. James Vance or at the door on Friday.

On the evening of November 7 the Eastover school PTO, principal and staff will host an "open house" in commemoration with National Education Week.

The Eastover Book Fair, served by mother librarians will be on display and ready for orders for those on their birthday and Christmas gift lists. The fair will continue through Nov. 19, with proceeds to benefit the school library fund.

Charing Cross Estates residents will be gathering for their third annual luncheon and afternoon of cards at Sylvan Glen Country Club on Thursday.

It will be a social afternoon of "meet your neighbor." Planning the event is Mrs. Reid MacGudwin of Hedding Road and co-chairman, Mrs. Montgomery Snyder. Contacting the residents personally to chalk this event up as another success in the subdivision are workers Mrs. Paul Graham, Mrs. Thomas Gay, Mrs. C. Robert Borden, Mrs. Gene Quackenbush, Mrs. James Minura, Mrs. Edward Puts, Mrs. John Holmes and Mrs. Clifford Coffey.

The Cyril Maxwell of Hyland Drive party were among the members attending Trophy Night at Edgewood Country Club on Saturday evening. Mrs. Maxwell, a newcomer to golf, was awarded two trophies—one for "Right" and the second for "the most improved golfer."

The Maxwells' guests at the buffet party were their daughter and son-in-law, the Robert Jessups of Bloomfield Hills. The girls returned to Marsha's home for a coke and platter party after last Friday night's class.

Those attending were Yvonne Marten, Jeannette Marten, Mary Leahy, Mary Knuff, Mary Ellen Swigart, Barbara Yates and Julie Smetek. Others were Julie Tata, Helen Close, Theresa Danman, Mary Hastings, Gladys Slemor and Robin Kuebler.

Friends Get Together After Long Separation

BRAES—The George Merliatt's of Barramoor Drive combined business with pleasure recently. While Merliatt was attending to business in Cleveland, Mrs. Merliatt looked up Mrs. Edward Thirkel in nearby Twinburg.

Twenty years is a long time but when old friends get together "the threads can be picked up so easily" and Mrs. Merliatt says it was "just the most marvelous experience any one could have."

WALNUT LAKE—Walnut Lake Walnut Lake Woman's Club will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Kirk Mills, 6223 Eastwood.

J. E. Roberts will present a slide-talk on "Tour of the Holy Land."

The committee for the evening tea includes Mrs. Wayne McCane, Mrs. Floyd Vine, Mrs. John Warren, Mrs. Frank Price and Mrs. Otto Tross.

Mrs. Clayborne McClellan, with the aid of Mrs. Mitchell Middleton, has combined the seventh and eighth sessions of the Girl Scout troops at Walnut Lake School. Anyone interested can contact either Mrs. Middleton or Mrs. McClellan.

Senior Girl Scouts will meet every Thursday at Groves School under the direction of Mrs. James Roberts, Mrs. Grove Duval and Mrs. Harry Mullen. Marsha Duval will be the program committee chairman for a senior planning board and Mary Richardson will attend the senior planning board meeting. Mary Richardson is temporary chairman.

If Mabel's Herb and Garden Shop at 2140 Walnut Lake Road loses the appearance of a busy bee hive, it's only because it's true.

Fifteen women from surrounding communities have been taking instructions from Mrs. Richard Gerathy on flower arranging for the past several weeks. Soon they will finish and a new group will organize to take advantage of the "Christmas" workshop which they will learn to make dried arrangements, Christmas trimmings and Della Robbia wreaths.

It is not necessary to belong to a garden club to join. Mrs. Stewart Schultz at 4755 Walnut Lake Road will provide additional information.

The members of the Walnut Lake branch WNFGA will go on an "International Holiday" on Monday at the home of Mrs. Henry Sahlin, 2670 Comfort Drive, at 12:30 p.m.

A gourmet's delight with an international flavor will be served by the committee who will be dressed in colorful foreign dresses.

Tea chairman Mrs. Otto Winklemann, a native of Germany, will wear a German dirndl. Mrs. Sahlin will wear a beautiful import from Sweden and Mrs. William Sahl, a fascinating Japanese woman—with red hair yet, Mrs. Walter Burton will also go in Japanese.

Mrs. G. Scheuer of Groves II will discuss some of the fundaments of the IPYE program. Mrs. Donald Irwin, State International Chairman of WNFGA, will also be on hand to discuss "Pencils for Friendship" and "Country Women of the World."

Church parish held a costume Halloween party on Saturday evening. Among those planning the party were teens from Charwood subdivision Kathy Nettie, decorations and Sandra Throm, publicity.

Mrs. Earl Roebacher of Juniper Court, Mrs. William Meese of Pine Hill Drive and Mrs. George Alers of Rochester joined the Consumers Club on Nov. 9 at the Consumers Power Building, 4600 Coolidge Road, Royal Oak. The event is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Proceeds will be used to augment a Wayne scholarship fund to be awarded by the club to a worthy Birmingham area student. Scholarship committee chairman is Mrs. Thad Brykalaki.

During the workshop sessions the group wrote and presented an invitational skit as part of the program. Mrs. Theodore Willis of Puritan Road was another of the Birmingham area attending.

Mrs. A. J. Macksey of Brethry Drive joined Mrs. Myron Patterson and friends at Birmingham on a private bus, complete with driver, for Marion, Ill. for five or six days recently. Mrs. Raymond Biggs of Groves Pointe, Mrs. P. C. O'Conner of Lathrup Village, Mrs. William Wolfe, Mrs. Lawrence Holland, Mrs. Russell Wright, Mrs. R. Davison and Mrs. Agnes Sheets of Detroit.

This same group journeyed to northern Michigan in May. The David Glefkes and son Larry of Northover Drive spent the last five days in New York attending the National Home Show at Madison Square Garden. The family were spectators instead of participants this year at the show.

The William Heines of Anslow Lane flew to New York city where they were hosted by Flint relatives of Mrs. Heaton's for their annual Holy Name Society Christmas dinner. Mrs. Heaton's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Utley, have been making the same trek for the past five years. Among the shows they attended while there were "Camelot" and "Far Country."

The Michael Bells of Butternut Hill Drive enjoyed a week's trip to Washington, DC and Williamsburg recently. Pittsburgh was another stop where they visited relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Polans.

The Edward Browns of Robson Lane spent a week on a tour of the east. They stopped off in Waterbury, Conn. and New York during their autumn jaunt.

WSU Alumnae Plan White Elephant Sale

A white elephant sale and a Thanksgiving cooking demonstration will combine an evening of fun and fund raising for the Birmingham Women of Wayne Alumnae Club on Nov. 9 at the Consumers Power Building, 4600 Coolidge Road, Royal Oak. The event is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Proceeds will be used to augment a Wayne scholarship fund to be awarded by the club to a worthy Birmingham area student. Scholarship committee chairman is Mrs. Thad Brykalaki.

G. E. ELECTRIC BLANKETS ARE NOT BAKED BEANS

So you certainly do not want to just pick one off a supermarket-type shelf. Most likely you want the comfort of lightweight electric bed-coverings, and you want the very best—so you want a General Electric Blanket. That much is easy.

But from there on you need some help; and that's where we come in. Will it be:

- Twin bed size, double bed size, single or dual control?
- Flat or tailored corners?
- Rayon and cotton, 10% Acrilan, or 35% Acrilan?
- White, beige, pink or which of sixteen color choices?

We'll be delighted to show and explain the different styles, and help you select the one just right for you.

If you should have any service problems during or after the two-year warranty period, we're all set to help out again. You won't have to chase all around Detroit with a blanket underarm, because we have facilities to test and exchange G.E. blankets right at Hawthorne Electric.

Low prices? You bet! You don't have to pull something off a shelf yourself to get it at the right price. Come in today, and we'll show you.
