

Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills Society Notes

By JOYCE KLARR
MI 6-1358

Pizza pie displacement broke all records and the coke level was dangerously low in Birmingham last Saturday night.

The occasion was the first junior high Assembly dance at the Community House, and eighth and ninth graders from every school in our area had themselves a ball.

A representative panel had met weeks before the dance and laid down their own ground rules—NO dates, church clothes (we learned that this is the usual median between sweaters, skirts and party dresses) and of course the inevitable pizza. Shoes were mandatory (there was a small amount of protest over this) and those gals who tottered through this gathering in high high heels have already decided to carry flats to the next party (Nov. 18) so they can make their glamorous entrances and then slip into their "action" shoes!

THERE WAS A receiving line, rock and roll contest, song ball dance and a grand march. Intermission featured the electric guitar playing of John Liles and Pete Draper, cheered on to a smashing success by Bill McNaughton. Other junior highers enjoyed the evening. They were: Sarah App, Pat and Jody Cronin, Tom Draper, Marie Lucas, David Marr, Dan Kroll, Kelly Fitzgerald, Karen Christiansen, Jane Linder, Sally Wiant, Brook Raymond, Diane King, Katie Klarr, Dick Moon, David Craig, Mary Weir and Sue Cargill.

Also there were Bruce Naylor (his red jacket caused a small sensation) Stuart White, Rod Davis, Chuck Townsend, Bernard Lund, Margaret Ann "Boo" Egan, Patty Harding, Lance Avision, Libby Dunn, Alan and Craig Gagester, Jan Detweiler, Brad Jayne, Judy Dittrich, Drew Douglas, Craig Hall, Margaret, Margaret Buterbaugh, Susan McPhail, Maggie Ploch, Bruce Lawrence, Lloyd Engstrom, Katy Burgum, Adrian Anderson, Randy Judd and Diane Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tisher of Cranbrook Road have their daughter and son-in-law as house guests this week, along with three lively grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bonham of Marietta, Ohio, brought their Jeffry, two, Tish, four and Melinda three months for the visit. A family duck dinner has been planned at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

The residents of 6511 Timber Ridge? Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Amundson moved from Seattle, Wash., on Sept. 5. He is employed by Remington Rand as an assistant manager. They have two children, Marni Lee and Steven. Family hobbies are dancing and camping.

THE ED ALLEN exercise girls among the group can afford to be a bit superior. They aren't complaining of sore muscles and aching backs as are some of the "Rockettes"—most of whom haven't danced since their college revue days.

E. Sigrel-Kay Cooley reports a rush on tickets for the Las Vegas follies. Everybody is looking forward to the show—especially the number "Lulu's Back in Town" by the sustainers.

Business Meeting

The regular business and social meeting of the Birmingham Business Women's Club will be given at 6:30 this evening at the Community House. Rebecca Willis will give a gift wrapping demonstration. Officers for the coming year are Audrey Kemp, president; Avis Wooster, vice president; Marjorie Eates, recording secretary; Rebecca Willis, corresponding secretary; and Rose Holden, treasurer.
