Seaholm Maples

By FAN FARLOW Special Writer

The journalism department of Seaholm will be quite busy during the month of November—attending conferences, and conventions, both newspaper and yearbook people.

The first convention, at Michigan State University in East Lansing, will be Saturday. This is a day-long event, held annually, with delegates from the entire state attending. Meetings and discussions of all phases of scholastic journalism will be held.

Delegates to this meeting will be Kay Heikinen, "Highlander" editor, plus the junior and sophomore staff members. Some journalism one students will also attend.

Nov. 11 is the next meeting to be attended only by yearbook people. This yearbook workshop is held by the southwestern region of the Michigan Intercollegiate Press Association.

MR. HAMMEL, regional director for this group is arranging the program with Mrs. Helen Price, advisor at Clintondale High School.

where the convention will take place.

Representing Seaholm's prize-winning yearbook, "The Emerald," are: Louie, Mike Newton, Steve Chandler, Sue Koenig, Jerry Randall and Elaine Bishop.

The convention held the farthest from Birmingham is the NSPA convention in the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago during the Thanksgiving vacation. This national meeting deals in both the phases of work on the yearbook and a school paper. Ten Seaholm journalists will attend this meeting, accompanied by adviser Mr. Samuel and his wife, as chaperones.

Already selected to go are Peg Louie and Mimi Newton from the "Pipe" staff, and Kay Heikinen, Craig Cooley and Steve Chandler from the yearbook staff. Five additional staff members will be selected to attend.

Seaholm's "Pipe" has done it again! For the second straight year the annual has been crowned "win" for high school yearbooks. The 1961 "Pipe" won the "Medalist" award from the 20th Scholastic Press Association; the "All-American" award from the National Scholastic Press Association; and the A award from the National School Yearbook Association.

Graduates who put together this year's winning annual included Carolyn Rosenberger, Jan Brundige, Gay Liebert, Larry DuCharme and Kay Heikinen. The editor of this year's "Pipe" is Mimi Newton, and this year's business manager, Mimi Newton, were also members of last year's annual staff.

There are 31 proud Seaholm seniors who have been recognized in the 1961-62 National Merit Scholarship program. Twenty-five of these seniors represent commendation for their excellent performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test held last spring.

Eight seniors qualified as semi-finalists and are eligible to take a second test in December to try for a National Merit Scholarship.

These seniors represent, on a national scale, less than two per cent of secondary school seniors and better than 7.2 per cent of the seniors enrolled in the current senior class.

RECEIVING LETTERS of commendation were Richard Beaulieu, Craig Cooley, Carter Dinkeldou, Emily Edwards, Daniel Fox, Geoffery Gilbert, Patrick Gordon, Virginia Grizom, Wes Grube, Edwin Hecker, Kay Heikinen and Harvey Wallace.

Also included in this group are Michael Houlihan, Jennifer Jackson, Bob Kennedy, Barbara Clark, Jim Emmett, John Bloor, Robert Sigler, John Emmet, and Jim Bash.

INTERVIEWS held to determine the names of four students recommended for the American Overseas Study program abroad are completed and the semi-finalists chosen. Selected for their reactions, thoughtfulness and knowledge of current events, these students were thought the best applicants by the APS screening committee.

THIS COMMITTEE includes Mrs. Darling, Sally Bowring, Jim Emmett, John Emmett, Greg Fronter, Bob Kennedy, Mae LeFevre, Mary Randall, Jeanette Ruuska, Cee Smith and Harvey Wallace.

The committee selected Trudi Manning and Jerry Coward. APP. Tom Brooks, Bob Brown, Ginger Haffey, Lillian Jackson, John McCulloch, Don Spencer, Pat Wyatt, Dave Saunders and Betty Schwab as the semi-finalists.

The screening committee, including more adults, will decide on the names of four candidates to be sent to New York.
