

CAN YOU LOOK THIS GIRL IN THE EYE?

Physically handicapped children are not looking for pity. They're fighters, with grit and determination to help themselves to a better, fuller life.

And they have faith—faith that someday they will be able to run and play, to do all the things your children do ... and take for granted.

It's up to you—because your dollars are needed if the Rehabilitation Institute, one of 195 agencies supported by your United Foundation, is to give these children the help they need to overcome their handicaps.

Think of one of your children being physically handicapped—then let your heart guide what you give!

You share the gift you give ... when you give once for all
