Local Residents Make Flying Visit to Europe

LATHRUP — As far as Mrs. Robert D. Martin is concerned, she likes Paris best of all the places she and her husband visited on their flying, 17-day visit to Europe. She advised that "all the girls in Paris look like Brigitte Bardot."

The Martins visited England, France, Switzerland, Italy and Holland and the man of the house was most impressed with the art treasures and scenery in Rome. A good deal of their time was spent hunting mementos for the six Martin youngsters.

The Lathrup Recreation Commission would like to remind junior high and senior high boys that basketball is on the agenda every Thursday evening from 7 to 8:30 at the Lathrup School gym—purpose is to provide team play for boys who are not on school or league teams.

Volleyball for men will follow the boys' activities—same night, same gym. The sport is open to men of all ages.

A weekend of shopping and maybe a show or musical was in the planning for Mrs. Ernest Hodas and Mrs. Eleanor Slavik during their weekend visit to Chicago. Hodas arrived in the big city a day ahead of the gala and once business calls were out of the way, joined them in their sightseeing.

When the Rudolph J. Zabels of Meadowood greeted their guests last weekend, it wasn't long before the fellas were reminiscing over schooldays at Baldwin High School, Birmingham.

And that was also good enough reason for a party in honor of guests Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Ewer, at the home of the Lawrence S. Clark of Upper Long Lake. Over the dinner table the main element swapped almost talk some more, especially as James Pratt, another ex-Baldwinite and his wife were among the guests. They are from Beverly Hills.

The Ewers are from Terre Haute and their visit here was the first in 16 years.

Lathrup Village Dance Club met Friday at Maplewood Club for its second gala of the current season with Earl Perkins providing the music and Judy Carroll the singing. The event was costume—on an optional basis—with prizes for the best of the masqueraders.

Word was the theme was to be a Halloween one with decorations chairman Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moses at the helm and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pepp assisting. Both couples live on Meadowood.

Cocktails before the dance was the reason for the presence of 11 couples at the Walter Baughmans on Friday evening. And the Howard Humphreys also entertained at pre-dance festivities.

Delos P. Hoasler of Goldengate Drive received his life membership in Eureka Masonic Lodge 506, Detroit, on Oct. 24.

Fred Johnson and Fred Ruppel, who both live on Goldengate too, and Robert Williamson of Highland Park, were his guests for dinner—and naturally made it a point to see him receive his membership.

We have a hunch that it was more than his desire "to get back in shape" that was responsible for Councilman John Kohl's generous offer to help with the coaching of the Thursday night's basketball session for boys at Lathrup school. Actually, Kohl discovered much later that the clam schedule and his time table did not mix but the Thoughtful gesture was typically above and beyond the call of duty. Could be, it might inspire other stalwarts to offer assistance?

Lathrup Lions Club will be knocking at local doors again this year to offer you the chance to purchase a luscious fruit cake to grace your holiday table. Chairman of this year's project is Dr. Neil Thruwacher of Bungalow Drive, assisted by captains Gene Zelin, Roy Johnston and David Redwood.

Topping a surprise birthday party for Mrs. David Redwood last Friday morning, her husband took her to Rotunda Inn for dinner where she was served a very special birthday cake.

"Contributors" of the neighborhood ladies' surprise "do" were Mrs. Harold Wanagat and Mrs. Robert Marr; guests and honor guest are all San Rosa residents.

Garden Club Plans Meeting in S'field

SOUTHFIELD — The Riverwoods Garden Club will meet Saturday noon at the home of Mrs. Harold Skidmore, 2490 Waycross Court.

The program topic will be "What To Do With Your Neuritic Garden" with a panel discussion led by Mrs. Glen Wisely and Mrs. Andy Broad, Mrs. Leon Dechein and Mrs. Joseph McDougall.

The members will hold a bake sale after the meeting to raise funds for community projects.

Mrs. Eugene Hill and Mrs. Irving Vollbrecht will act as co-hostesses.

grass roots organization of her own township.

Concerned that their was no program of survival from natural or civil disaster in the school system, she called key personnel in the township together to organize.

Her husband, John Warren, was named defense director and she, his assistant. Together they worked up a civil defense organization in the township that is still very much alive and alerted.

When members of her classes ask her how they go about getting an active civil defense in their area, she can advise them, with all sincerity, "Do it yourself."

She has practiced what she preaches.
