BUSINESS NEWS

Behind The Store Fronts

With ANGUS MCKELAR

Approximately 1200 children attended the Halloween party at the Bloomfield Plaza Shopping Center Oct. 31.

The kids really lived it up, according to Herb Eddy, president of the Bloomfield Plaza Businessmen's Association (who is also manager of Daily Brothers Furniture's plaza store).

Potato chips and soft drinks were free, through the courtesy of suppliers. Headliners for the evening were Johnny Gagner, popular television entertainer, and Lou Sherman, radio disc jockey.

Congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. Bud Baldwin on the birth of their eighth-born, four ounce, son, Scott David, Oct. 29.

Bud is a vacuum cleaner and sewing machine repairman at Dubuc Sales & Service down Woodward way.

Foundation work is underway for a new addition to Jacobson's Home Decorative Shop, 225 N. Woodward. The new building will be part of the old, but will front for 95 feet on Willett street, between Bany Flowers and The Arthur Murray Studios of Dance. The new building will be architecturally interesting, according to Wilbur Mason, of Jacobson's. From the Wilson on Willett street, customers will go down to a lower level. Construction is by Chisum Construction Co. of Birmingham.

SEAN C. (PAT) MONK, of Birmingham's Time Shop at 1818 Bates, is another traveler who highly recommends a trip on the newly opened King's Highway around the north shore of Lake Superior. Much of the area is a joy to the rock collector, and Pat was kept busy helping Mrs. Monk add to her collection.

AARON KERSHENBAUM proudly showed us Kay Baum's new lower level which is limited to girls' apparel, ages 3 to 14. Opening of the new level, which was otherwise used before extensive remodeling, adds about 2400 square feet of selling space to the store.

THE BIRMINGHAM INSURANCE AGENCY people are becoming settled in their new offices at 114 S. Woodward (same building, same floor). The new quarters are twice the size of the old offices.

And if anyone should ever feel a bit critical about the lumber people stressing the "inherent warmth of wood" then they should ask Frank Wilson, one of the firm's partners, to show them the antique birch paneled partitions which the agency has put in.
