On Friday, the homecoming festivities will begin with a pep assembly in the afternoon, followed by a football game with Southgate. Bryan Carpenter is in charge of the half-time activities. During this time each class will present their float for judging.

The theme for the senior float, under the direction of John Caldwell, is yet to be announced. Diane Mott is in charge of building the junior float. The junior's theme is, "Remember the Class of '53." The class officers are in charge of the sophomore float, their theme being "Skunk Em!"

Last week, each senior homecoming nominated 2 girls to compete for the queen of the homecoming dance Friday, Girls Homecoming. The nominees are: Kathy Lantz, Pat Taggart, Ralene Hacker; A-26, Alexis Bouwman, Blanche Albert, Marilyn Owens and G-3, Peg Cummings, Carrys Shoener, Donna Topp.

Others are homecom E-8, Leigh Young, Lin Boynton, Judie Hewitt; and homecomer C-3, Kathy Kelly, Sue Krueger and Jean Ann Lagers.

The queen will be announced and crowned at the dance by the co-captains of the football team, Bill Faulds and Bob Gilme. The escorts for the court include Pete Morse, Bob Sutton, Doug Moore and Larry Huffman.

Judie Hewitt is general chairman of the dance while Mrs. Kooker, Ed Altrath, and Mr. Johnson are faculty advisors.

Chairman of the music committee is Gene Karroon. Dave Lee's Band will provide the entertainment.

The news articles from Barnum Junior High this year are being prepared by the initial Press Club of the school, made up of ninth grade English class students. Members of Mrs. Wilson's English class are acting as weekly reporters in various areas of school activities.

They write up news articles and turn them over to Jim Bouse, Press Club editor, Lynn Gowing is his assistant. Any Barnum students with news of interest to the school should contact Jim or Lynn.

Students bowling this year at Barnum is off to a good start. There are 12 teams, each consisting of four bowlers, that have chosen a name for themselves. Each team competes against the other, trying to reach first place.

Holding down first place are the "Four Misses," with 12 wins and no losses; in second place, the "100 Breakers," with 11 wins and 1 loss. Third place position is held by the "Bowlers 4," with 7 wins and 5 losses.

AFTER WORKING OUT at Pierce field for two weeks, Mr. Moran, in charge of intramural football, picked four eighth and ninth grade as well as two seventh grade teams.

In the seventh grade division, the "Packers" won. The stars of the team were Gary Wallace, Steve Hill, Ralph Galbreath and Tom Peters. In the eighth and ninth grade division, the "Pipers," led by captain Jim Canham, halfback Tom Fagg and quarterback Tim Wilcox, were undefeated.

Bloomfield Country Day

Charles E. Feinberg, internationally known for his Walt Whitman collection, visited Bloomfield Country Day School on Friday to speak to the students about "The Old Gray Poet," a friend of Lincoln.

Although Mr. Feinberg on most occasions addresses select groups of writers and college students, his BCD was that he be assured that BCD was of interest to the part of the students. Consequently, Whitman's life and works were read and discussed to gain an understanding of the new spirit and form which the roughshod Whitman introduced into American poetry.

SEVENTH AND EIGHTH grade students spent Halloween morning at the Cranbrook Institute of Science where they viewed historical and geographical exhibits and listened to a science lecture given by Mrs. Doris MacMillan in the planetarium.

Special points of interest were the Indian Exhibit, the display which explained the formation of the earth, the time clock, and the stuffed birds.

Mrs. Nora Johnston and Mrs. Maxine Ferguson, history and science teachers respectively, accompanied the girls. Some of the girls brought charts of the constellations for souvenirs.

The Lancers played their last football game of the season, Oct. 25 against Cray Junior High in a defeat battle of 6-18.

The Lancers won two games out of three this season.

Members of the 1961-62 choir, directed by Mr. Poland, are planning to purchase 50 new robes in time for the Christmas concert.

Candy Herabarger, member of the choir, modeled the all-green four-length robe for the student council approval.

The approximate cost of each robe is $17. The choir treasury does not have enough funds to purchase the robes, so the student council has been asked to give aid to the choir.

Admission money received at school concerts is the only means the choir has to purchase the robes.

Each year the juniors of Bloomfield Hills High School have chance to learn about other countries by visiting them through the American Field Service program. This program helps to sponsor juniors on a summer or year-round exchange basis.

Annually juniors compete to live for awhile in the various homes of overseas families. This year has been no exception; the juniors filled out their applications and have been screened by a careful committee composed of teachers and students.

FOUR FINALISTS have been selected. Terry Givens, Chuck Bailey, Ginny Vailky, and Pann Wang will be the candidates from Bloomfield Hills. These two boys and two girls will be sent to the New York office for final consideration.

Last week four of the juniors were selected. Of these two went on the AFS program and one went on the Council of Churches program.

Merridith Flaxton spent the summer in Valencia, Spain. Val Harv is now in the Netherlands for the entire school year. Cary Cline, one of the Council of Churches representatives, spent the summer in Madrid, Spain.

THE SKI CLUB is now making preparations for the long-hoped-for fall snow. In a meeting last week, Bob Clark was elected president and "Butch" Blumenthal, vice-president. These people will check on the various ski areas and their possibilities.

The ski team is also making preparations. At the Nov. 2 meeting,
