

Choir Gives Thanksgiving Presentation

First Presbyterian Church's Crucifer Boy's Choir provided special music for Thanksgiving services Sunday. The occasion marked the dedication of the new robes of the 37-member choir, under the direction of L. Robert Slusser, minister of music. Other Birmingham area churches will observe Thanksgiving with special services tomorrow.

Dedicate New S'field Church

"A power tool to be used wisely." With these words Dr. Philip R. Giles described the new building at the Occasional Service presenting Northwest Unitarian Universalist Church to the Southfield community Nov. 10.

And the "tool" had been used to express more artistic creativity of its "owners" than could possibly have been dreamed a few short months ago when the combined meetings of the Unitarian-Universalist Convention of Michigan and Michigan Area Council of Liberal Churches were invited to the then unfinished building.

Dr. Giles, vice president of the Unitarian-Universalist Association, visiting Detroit for the presentation, spoke of the challenge to liberal churches to create an institution that serves the needs of the individual. Liberal religion, he said, has a message for peoples of the world claiming no religion and must speak to them in their own idiom.

Church News Deadline
Deadline for church news is 3 p.m. Thursday the week BEFORE publication.

Rev. Grey to Speak At Pine Hill Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Alfred Grey, minister of Pine Hill Congregational Church, will speak on "The Homely Virtues" at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

The youth fellowship is taking orders for Christmas trees to help finance a ski trip.

Plan Two Services For Thanksgiving

St. James Episcopal Church will have two Thanksgiving Day services at 8 a.m. and 10 a.m.

The first will be a Holy Communion service and the second a choral Eucharist and sermon with the combined boys and girls junior choir.

St. Stephens Vicar To Give Lectures

The Rev. Carl R. Sayers, vicar of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, will deliver three lectures in the series, "Our Christian Heritage," under the direction of the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the diocese of Michigan.

Speaking on "The Purpose of History—The Law and the Prophets," Rev. Sayers will first appear at St. John's church, Royal Oak, at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 29.

Rev. Sayers' second lecture will be given at St. Michael's, Grose Pointe Woods, Dec. 12, and the third at the Episcopal Cathedral Center, Detroit, Jan. 4.

ALSO PARTICIPATING in this series of 12 lectures on the doctrines of the Episcopal church are the three bishops of the diocese, Bishops Emrich, Archie Crowley, and Robert L. DeWitt, and several priests of the diocese, including the Rev. Gerald O'Grady of Christ Church Cranbrook.

All lectures will be held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the above named churches.

1st Baptist Minister Attends UN Seminar

The Rev. Dr. Homer J. Armstrong, minister of the First Baptist Church in Birmingham, recently returned from a three-day seminar study at the United Nations in New York City.

The seminar group attended sessions of the United Nations and lunched UN delegates.

2 Bham Churches To Exchange Visits

Congregations of the First Baptist Church and the Christian Science First Church will cross Willis and Chester in Birmingham to visit each other's churches Sunday.

The two churches, located a block apart, have extended invitations to each other to visit their new facilities. Each church has spent a quarter-of-a-million dollars in improving its church property during the past year.

Community Service For Thanksgiving

Northminster Presbyterian Church will hold a community Thanksgiving Day worship service at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Congregational Church in Birmingham. The Rev. Jack Angerman of the First Presbyterian Church will preach and the Rev. Mead Bailey of the Congregational Church will lead the service.

Why Chrysler hasn't fooled around with "in-betweens" and "baby brothers"

An encouraging word to you who may be slightly confused and faintly unhappy about the wide variety of cars in the market today

If all the baby brothers, junior editions, and in-between sizes of cars you've known and liked for years have you slightly confused and faintly unhappy, we hope you'll take a long, hard look at the cars from Chrysler Corporation.

Although our 1962 models are probably the most truly modern cars on the road, they are designed and engineered with the old-fashioned notion that a Chrysler is a Chrysler, a Dodge is a Dodge, and a Plymouth is a Plymouth.

You'll know where you're at with a 1962 car from Chrysler Corporation, and we think you'll find it a good place to be.

To begin with, there are some things our cars do have in common.

There's no fat or dead weight. Each car has a trim, rack look. They're nimble in traffic, far easier to handle and park. And they do what a lot of automotive engineers thought was impossible. They give you a lot more action on a lot less gas. Acceleration is up as much as 10%; gas mileage, which was already outstanding, is up as much as 7%.

These are the cars that we have to offer:

IMPERIAL
This is the most luxurious car we make, and nobody in the country makes one plusher. Leather hides, for example, are finished by hand. Upholstery is shrink-fitted to seats with live steam. It is truly America's most carefully built car. Prices start at $4,920*.

CHRYSLER
This is the big car that first made Chrysler engineering famous. This year the Chrysler 300, the car our engineers use to show how much performance can be put into an automobile, is available in a new series priced just above the Chrysler Newport. Previously there was only an expensive limited edition. Chrysler Newport prices start at $2,964*.

DODGE
Now priced with Ford and Chevrolet, Dodge has always been known for dependability. This year we've added a dash of daring to give you quality without bulk. There's still plenty of head and legroom, but reducing the car to road-hugging live weight gives you more zip in a car that gets more miles out of every gallon. Prices start at $2,241*.

PLYMOUTH
Priced for the average income, sized for the average garage. Full size in both front and back seats. Powered for performance that almost reconciles a sports car driver to a car big enough for the wife, the kids, and a St. Bernard. Goes farther on a gallon of gas than ever. Prices start at $2,206*.

LANCER
This is the compact that can cruise along at turnpike speeds without pressing, but it uses regular gasoline sparingly, as a compact car should. Exclusive Tension-Aire Ride, used in our most expensive cars, gives the Lancer an unusually comfortable ride. Prices start at $1,951*.

VALIANT
This is the compact frequently mistaken for an expensive foreign make, although it's priced like a compact. With its advanced Slant-Six Engine, it combines the economy of a compact with passing power you expect to find only in larger engines. Prices start at $1,930*.

Six cars, no confusion. Each designed to offer you something extra in its price class. Before you decide on your next new car, drive one of these.

*Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price, exclusive of destination charge.
