

In most of us there lies the stuff of which some form of heroism is made... often all we require is the emergency to respond to this role. To rescue another from imminent danger of some kind is a condition that brings forth the selflessness that begets a measure of heroism. Thus, if one himself be in danger of self-destruction because of a very bad habit, why not be a hero to one's own self?

YOUTH and EDUCATION

Bonny and Breezy

ior Latin class students told the story of Aeneas' exile from Troy. The program was presented at Mercy College by Marian High students and pupils from two Detroit area schools.

On Monday BHHS halls heard the sound of rubbing feet long after they had been cleared of students. The reason for this unusual occurrence was the annual open house when parents follow a regular school-day schedule with eight-minute classes, complete with bells.

The parents also learned of their son's or daughter's teachers, curriculum, and in some cases observed the displays which were in the rooms.

THE KUDER Preference Test, a vocational test, has been taken by the ninth grade students at BHHS recently.

Preferences in the following 10 areas of interest were tested: outdoor, mechanical, scientific, computational, persuasive, artistic, literary, manual, social service, and open house when parents follow a

The fall athletic schedule was concluded last week and the annual awards assembly was held in the assembly hall on Nov. 15. Mr. Hoy opened the assembly and then introduced Mr. Peter Slader, athletic director and head football coach. Mr. Slader turned the assembly over to Mr. Robert Usellis who awarded "C's" to the soccer letter-winners: They are Dave Kessel, John Bover, Guy Bramble, Barney Crouse, John Dibbs, Dave Kitterman, Alan Wilkinson, Steve Early, Bob Burgstahler, Tom Brown, Tom Cooper, Tom Wilson, Steve O'Grady, Brit Gordon, Linn Hobbs and Chris Fredricks, manager.

THIS YEAR'S CAPTAIN, Dave Kessel, introduced the co-captains for next year, Dave Kitterman, and Tom Brown. The most-improved soccer player award was presented to Linn Hobbs, who played full-back. Mr. Usellis gave special recognition to his assistant, Mr. Geist, and commented briefly on the season's high points. The team had a winning season, with five wins against three losses. In the last game of the season it regained possession of the trophy which is awarded annually to the winner of the Cranbrook-Chatham Vocational game.

Mr. Slader awarded "C's" to the football letter-winners. They are Brian O'Shaughnessy, Worth Matteson, Barry Butler, Paul Adair, Bill Powell, Steve Way, Steve Erickson, Dave Schultz, Peter Maxwell, R. M. Kevey, Dick Mosher, Whit Conrad, Dave Napier, Bob Dearth, Gregg Thompson, Ted Lerchen, Bob Hicks, Larry Hard, Ed Gage, John Billeston, Tom Bennett, Tom Barlow and Carl Fredricks, manager.

This year's co-captains O'Shaughnessy and Matteson, introduced the co-captains for next year, Dick Mosher and Dave Schultz.

Mr. Slader acknowledged the invaluable work of his assistants, Mr. Laskarides, and Mr. Barney and commented on the great seven-and-one season, one of the best in Cranbrook's history.

The Lower School recently held election of the members of this year's Lower School Council.

The president is Jim Green; vice-president is Tom Chambers; secretary-treasurer is James Hartman.

First-form representatives are Sandy Sanden, Roger Cummings, Kip Craig and Pete Hatch. Second-form representatives are Bob Augengough, Harry Hartjen, John Livingston, and Tim Wagner.

The council assists Mr. Allan, faculty member in charge of the Lower School, in handling activities, dances and parties. It also can act as a disciplinary committee in special cases.

Rehearsals are in progress for the annual fall play, presented by the Cranbrook-Kimmerling Ergasterion Club. This year's play will be presented Dec. 8-9 in the Cranbrook auditorium at 8:15.

The public is invited and the play is entitled "My Three Angels," by San and Bella Spewack.

Blind people cannot get their reading material in paper-backs at the corner newsstand. Instead they must depend on the publicly supported libraries for the blind. There are at present 31 regional libraries which serve as distributing centers for Talking Books and Braille material.

The first homecoming queen was crowned on Nov. 10 at the "Regalia Ball." The new queen is Leigh Young. Members of the court were Kathy Kelly, Sue Krueger, Kathy Laux, Peg Cummings and cat laggart.

A group of 84 students from the senior English classes at Groves will be attending the Wayne State University Theatre performance of "King Lear" Dec. 10 at the Wayne State University Theatre, Detroit.

For the past two weeks at Groves, the 1962 "Talon" Groves yearbook, has been on sale. Cindy Mott, co-business manager is in charge of circulation.

Tonight, the Groves student government, in combination with Seaholm's student government, is presenting a semi-formal Thanksgiving dance at Groves. The name of the group here each year. He-the dance is "The Harvest Ball" and its purpose is to encourage a closer relationship between the two schools.

The dance will begin at 8 and the music will be supplied by the Jerry Fenby Five.

On Saturday, chemistry and physics students of Groves went on a field trip to the General Motors Institute. The purpose of the trip was to view the institute's freshman chemistry labs and physics classes.

The Singing Hoosiers will be visiting Groves again to present a vocal concert on Nov. 29. This group is composed of young men and women from Indiana University. Mr. Krueger, a music director at Groves, is responsible for bringing the group here each year. He-

Three students from Groves will be competing in a contest for a dramatic scholarship at Michigan State University on Dec. 9.

The three students are Bryan Carpenter, Bruce Risk and Beth Koenig. Each student in the contest must prepare a two-minute dramatic narration. These will be presented on Dec. 1 and again on Dec. 2.

Barnum's intramural seventh-ninth grades swimming teams. The boys were divided up and put on equal teams and on Nov. 15 they competed against each other. On Monday and Tuesday they will again compete for team championships.

Last week Barnum had ninth grade aptitude tests. The students took these tests for four days, two periods a day. The head of boys was Mr. Tindall, and the girls, Miss Brusic. When these tests are corrected the counselors will talk over the tests with the students and prepare 10th grade schedules.
