Seaholm is honored by having, for the first time, one of the students in the retailing class running for a state-wide office in the Co-operative Education Clubs of Michigan.

Dave Middlefield, a senior, was nominated for the office. The voting will take place in Battle Creek on Jan. 12, each local club having a representative for every 20 students.

Seaholm's representatives are Mary Kramer and Sue Toth.

He is also employed at the Miracle Milk Kiosk Shop where he has been a salesman for the past three years.

At the board meeting Nov. 7, four committees were appointed and four chairmen elected to work with the board editor, Trudi Apter, who will be publicly chairman, and working with her will be Lou Rath-ford, Charles Sutherland and Tim Baehr.

Tim Baehr is screening committee chairman, assisted by Barbara Fish and Barb Oyen.

Lou Rathford is in the contest committee chairmanship, members of her committee will be chosen soon. The final committee is the production committee, to which members must yet be appointed.

Coached by Mr. Thumser, Seaholm's debaters moved into at least the first place with either Roseville or Hazel Park in the newly formed EMU debate League.

Taking two debates from Hazel Park knocked that school out of first place in the league. There are many debates left this season and

This past week the seventh grade completed history projects based on Colonial times. These projects were judged by the senior class.

Melanie Baer's relief map of Virginia received first place. Second place was awarded to Mary Helen Lee for her project, "A Public School in New England." A model of a frontier town by Mary Helen Lee also received first place. Lee's project, a trading post, was awarded fourth place.

Two seniors, Peggy Wirth and Mary Anne Vogelside, have been accepted by St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, under the early admission plan.

On the Mistress General's holiday, the four academic classes prepared skits based on French themes. Prizes were given to the senior class and the ninth grade for the best presentation.

The first play given on the stage of the new auditorium was very effective. Those who had speaking roles in the production, based on the life of Mother Philippine Duchesne, were Angela Maglia, Alicia Scallen, Annette Slavick, Johnstone, Rose Moorman, Mary Helen Lorenz and Maureen Judge.

The General Motors Science demonstration, "Progress in the Future," was given for the school in the fields of science and technology were graphically illustrated through a series of experiments.

BHHS has been busily preparing for a merry Christmas atmosphere throughout the whole school.

A Christmas showcase has been planned by Mrs. Van Ryzin, who is in charge of the home economics department's contribution to the holiday mood.

Picture a Christmas tree of velvet bows, tempting lollipops, colorful ribbon bows, or practically any other constructive material you can think of, and you have an idea of the results of the work of these students.

OTHER contributions to this showcase are fruitcakes also from the eighth grade, and aprons from the seventh grade.

The art department has designed a Nativity scene. The figures will be made from paper and pieces of cloth—and will be about one-third life size.

Through the efforts of Mr. Hoxie's commercial art, and you have an idea of the results of the work of these students.

Other classes are in the process of creating postcard-size Christmas cards. These are unusual in that they are three-dimensional. They will consist of bits of cloth, glitter, modeling clay and other materials.

Visit to 'Silver Vaults' Sparks European Trip

FRANKLIN WOODS — Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tompkins of Pickering Road returned to their home on the 12th after three weeks in Europe.

They flew from the States to London and spent several days touring. Highlight of the stay were the "Silver Vaults" in Old London, which were used as a bomb shelter during the war.

Next was Geneva, which Mrs. Tompkins describes as "breathtaking." A wine-tasting tour was included in this visit.

The final stop before returning home was a tour through Italy by train.

WESTCHESTER — Pvt. Gordon Loveland Jr. is currently stationed at Ft. Knox, but "home is where the heart is" and for Private Loveland, that is Westchester, where he spent Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Loveland Sr. and sister, Margie. To make the family picture complete, another sister, Joan, was home from Big Rapids where she attends Ferris Institute.

OAKLAND HILLS — Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Williamson are recent newcomers to 6660 Oakhills, having moved here from St. Marie, Greg, 5, and Lynn, 3, are the two youngsters responsible for all the happy hub-bub around the house.

Williamson is associated with Avis Enterprises at Schafer Brothers. The Williamsons like sports, especially that of snowboarding.

Very recently they enjoy as house guests Mr. and Mrs. Hans Standing, a ski instructor at Ironquois Mountain Ski Resort and sister Margie. To make the family picture complete, another sister, Joan, was home from Big Rapids where she attends Ferris Institute.
