Lamb Appointed Procurement Head

John H. Lamb, 250 Warrington, Bloomfield Hills, manager of purchases for the Cadillac motor car division, has been named executive in charge of procurement for General Motors.

Lamb's appointment was effective October 1. He succeeds Raymond H. Vogel, who will retire November 1 under provisions of GM's retirement program.

Lamb, like Vogel, is a native Detroit, attended local schools and high schools and the Detroit Junior College prior to joining Cadillac in May 1920 as a receiving clerk.

He has worked in both production and purchasing capacities. During the Korean war he was operations manager of the Cadillac tank plant in Cleveland and returned to Cadillac Detroit office as manager of purchases in Nov. 1954.

Langstrom Heads Corporate Trust At National Bank

Frank Langstrom, Jr., 1205 Lakeside, Birmingham, vice president and assistant trust officer, National Bank of Detroit, has been promoted to head of the corporate trust division of the trust department succeeding the late Lewis S. Robinson, according to Norman B. Weston, vice president and trust officer in charge of the trust department.

Langstrom has been with National Bank of Detroit since 1927.

He will continue to be responsible for the various employee benefit plans including pension and profit-sharing trusts of which the bank is trustee. In addition, the corporate trust division handles paying agencies, trusteeships under home, crew accounts and stock transfer agencies.

He resides with his wife, Josephine, and two children at 1205 Lakeside Drive, Birmingham.
