Pine Hill Friends Spend Weekend at Torch Lake

NORTH ADAMS—A group of Pine Hill Subdivision residents journeyed to the north country last weekend to visit autumn in all its colorful splendor. The group made the same trek to the same cottage on Torch Lake a year ago.

Enjoying the hikes through the wilds and the tantalizing dishes prepared by expert chefs in the crowd were the Ray Embury, the Fred Pantillon, the M. D. Elliotts, Dr. and Mrs. George Yatch of Rouge Circle Drive, the Wendell Cousins of Juniper Court and the Harry Siegel of Butternut Hill Drive.

Visiting the M. D. Elliotts of Rouge Circle are relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Spencer of Benton, Ill. The Spencers will stay on through October while the Elliotts motor to Los Angeles to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thompson, for two weeks.

The Elliotts are also planning a visit with their daughter and son-in-law, the Donald Spencers in San Jose, before returning home.

Houseguests with the Dennis Buckleys of Yorktown Court for a week's visit are daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schifano of Pittsburg.

Mrs. Buckley recently returned from Deep Creek, Md. where son James Riehl, C.S.C., studying at the Holy Cross College took his final vows.

Charles Modrack moved into their new home in Knob Hill last week. They are formerly from Oak Park. The Modracks have four children: Charles, 13; Christian, 10; Leslie, 8; and Matthew, 7. Ice skating and cycling are the family hobbies.

Charles Modrack is associated with Perry Douglas Carnegie.

It was an "evening in Mexico" for guests of the John Fishers of N. Reading Road recently. After their arrival the Fishers introduced them to the "Taco Buffet" in which each guest served and contacted their own variations centering around tortillas. In the group were neighbors, the H. E. Zimmermans, the Robert Posters, the H. W. Wados, the Douglas Paulingins and Mrs. Douglas Carnegie.

Bill expects to go on a shakedown cruise in November and is in hopes of spending Christmas at home with his parents, the Ray Emburys.

After the premiere they returned to the N. Reading Road home of the Douglas Fampkins where a party was in session.

Attending the party was son, Richard Andresen, who flew from Stuart, Fla. for the weekend, and son and daughter-in-law, Professor and Mrs. Edward Andresen and their children, Eddo and Linda, of Lansing. The professor is on the staff of Michigan State University.

Mr. Andresen will make his home in Florida near son Richard who has a flower farm there specializing in chrysanthemums.

The John Fishers of N. Reading Road and Mrs. Douglas Carnegie of S. Reading Road attended Mr. Andresen's cocktail party and then departed for the gala premiere of "The Gay Life" at the Fisher Theatre last Saturday evening.

After the premiere they returned to the N. Reading Road home of the Douglas Fampkins where a party was in session.

It is ROCK SALT—the kind most of you use to melt ice and kill weeds in the driveway and asparagus patch. It is stronger than stone, but not as hard. It weighs about 150 lbs. and has been buried under Ojibway, Ontario, for more than 300 million years.

Come in and take a lick at it!
