

Halloween Festivities Slated in North Adams

NORTH ADAMS — As in the years past, Pine Hill Subdivision is holding its annual Halloween party and parade on Saturday beginning at 3 p.m. The parade will begin at the corner of Pine Hill and Butternut Hill roads and travel throughout the subdivision. At the end of the line, games and prizes will be awaiting each child and their parents.

More than 300 are expected to turn out with each family totting its own box of goodies and blankets. Coffee, hot cocoa and donuts will be served around the roaring bonfire during the early evening hours before the children make their Halloween trick and treat trips in the sub.

Among those assisting the John Yoders in the planning of the event are Mrs. Robert Brandon, Mrs. Walter Cornelius and Mrs. Richard Figgins.

Town Acres will rope off Kent Road for its Halloween subdivision party for all ages on Tuesday from 7 to 8 p.m. In case of rain, Harland school will be party headquarters. There will be costume prizes for each age group along with the serving of donuts, cider and coffee before the "begging" begins.

Planning the event are entertainment chairman and co-chairmen, the A. R. Bottlers of Avonhurst, the Herbert Kings of Kent and the Paul Wilsons of Townhill.

Charing Cross Estates will begin its Halloween costume parade at the Ghost Hollow Pump House and will make a tour of the subdivision at 5:50 p.m. on Tuesday. The judging of prize costumes will be awarded at the Haddington triangle by judges, Mrs. James Kirwin and Ralph Wiagard. Serving hot cocoa, donuts and cider to all the little characters will be committee members Mrs. Robert Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pooch, Mrs. John Mancho, Mrs. Gene Quisenberry, Mrs. Clifford Coffey, Mrs. Robert Erickson, Mrs. A. Robert Borden.

A group of Birmingham boat enthusiasts rendezvoused at Harlan's in their craft last weekend. The occasion was an "end of the season farewell party" before putting their boats in dry dock for the winter.

The James Cousins arrived in their "Seven Seas 3," the Harry Housks and their Birmingham guests, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Jeffers, came over the choppy waters in "Wild One." The "Pamoran" was piloted by its captain, the Richard Minors and the fourth boat in the party was "Toyyot" owned by the Harold Kabischeks.

Their guests were the William Garlicks of Birmingham.

On the Friday night they anchored their boats in dry dock on the island.

The Charles Moroses and sons, Chuck and Larry, of Hellingbrooke Drive and Christoph Hoffman, a German student residing with the Moroses for the school year, motored to Chicago for the weekend. While there, they were guests of Miss Marjorie Morse and celebrated the birthday of Charles Morse Sr. A quick tour of the city was made before returning home.

It was a great thrill for seven-year-old, Jean Livesey, when her parents, the Robert Liveseys of Pine Hill Drive, decided on a night train trip to Centralia, Ill. last weekend. This was Jean's "first train experience" so had much to relate to grandmother, Mrs. D. E. Stevens Jr. of Raleigh, N. C., who was here with her husband on a business convention. Mrs. Stevens was a college classmate of Mrs. Livesey and the two had met each other for nine years.

Delta Zetas' Founders' Day

The Delta Zeta Alumnae of Oakland County and Detroit entertained the Epitola Sigma and Epitola Psi active chapters and their Mothers' Club Tuesday at the Wayne State University Alumni House.

The East Side group of Detroit were hostesses at this annual Founders' Day which commenced at 7:45 p.m. with the traditional sandlighting ceremony honoring the founders of Delta Zeta.

HIGHLIGHT of the evening was the announcement of the Delta Zeta Woman of the Year. United States Senator, Margaine Neuberger, was named Delta Zeta Sorority's Woman of the Year for 1961 by a committee of national judges.

Attending the Founders' Day tea from Oakland County were Messdames Cecil King, F. Lowellyn Luter, W. D. Perry, Robert Kerley, Forbes Hascall, George Skrupp, I. Kenneth Have and Winfield Hinnman.

Before dance time "Mixer Cocktail Parties" were hosted by the James Martins and the Harry Joudes of Birmingham aquainting members with one another.

There wasn't an talking until John Ball of Charnwood Drive opened his front door Saturday and was greeted by friends with "Surprise! Happy Birthday!"

Giving him more of a jolt was the fact that the roaring 20's to tie in with Mrs. Balls "bapper party theme".

In the group were the Roger Blackwoods and the William Heat, of Charnwood Drive, the William Deways and the Walter Morris of Anslow Lane, the Bruce Ogles of Glycerourum, the Charles Neilsons of Buckston Court, the Al Greenes of Midland, who stayed on weekend houseguests.

The Robert Brandons of Pine Hill Drive hosted a dinner party on Saturday for the John Zimmermanns of Pleasant Ridge. Their guests were the John Zabriskies of Fairfax Road.

John Zimmermann, a naval reserve, came back to active duty and will be stationed in the anti-radar detection unit outside Boston.

Cocktails to introduce new neighbors and friends, the Bob Ogles of Bartley Drive, to their immediate neighbors in Charing Cross Estates.

The Ogles moved here recently from Arlington, Va. and have two children, 18, is attending University of Cincinnati and Sandra, 14, is a student at Derby Junior High. Orle and Edith and Sendix Corp. Boating and fishing are among the family's interests.

The Bruce Hances and daughters, Deborah and Lucinda, of Parklawn, are moving to Cincinnati, where they will make their home. Hance is affiliated with Reynolds Metals and was transferred there recently.

The John Yoders of Pine Hill Drive motored to Evanston, Ill. last weekend to visit Yoder's mother, Mrs. Dwight E. Yoder.

On Thursday, Kall Yoder celebrated her seventh birthday with a party supper inviting friends, Susan Brandon, Kathy Morgan, Jean Livesay, Judy McGowan, Cindy Cole, all of the North Adams area.
