

Cranbrook Cranes

By DOUGLAS SMITH
Special Writer

On Nov. 4, Cranbrook will hold its annual homecoming—this year meeting the "Pioneers" of Western Reserve Academy.

The two athletic contests, soccer and football, will have staggered starting times this year. The soccer game will start at 1:30 and the football game at 2. This will enable everyone to see part of each of the games, and will constitute a significant improvement over previous years. A third attraction will be a lower school soccer game Saturday morning at 10.

DURING THE HALFTIME of the football game, the house exhibits will be judged, and the annual halftime show will be presented, featuring the Cranbrook band and many members of the student body.

This year's theme is based on the Civil War Centennial and all the exhibits will also depict Civil War scenes adapted to the Cranbrook-Western Reserve rivalry.

The student chairmen in charge of the overall co-ordination of the events is Sam Walker.

The public is invited to the games and also to a reception which will be held in the Cranbrook auditorium following the football game. Refreshments will be served, and the glee club will do several numbers. Cranbrook alumni are also invited to a dance, not open to the public, which will be held that evening, beginning at 7:30.

MR. HARRY D. HOFF, headmaster of Cranbrook School, has recently returned from a 10-day trip to New York where he attended a meeting of educators from schools in the United States and Latin America.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss problems of education in the western hemisphere and to propose and discuss the creation of a body which would be known as the Inter-American Education Association. The main emphasis of the meeting was on independent education, and the most important issue was that of defending and safeguarding freedom of education in the Americas.

In the face of an increased Soviet threat, against this freedom the more detailed goals of the Association would be:

- (1) to build a greater understanding among the 21 American states of democratic systems;
- (2) to defend the rights of the teaching profession and extend the liberty of schools in their choice of curricula;
- (3) to uphold the rights of parents to choose the schools to which they wish to send their children;
- (4) to protect the property of private education against moral and physical confiscation;
- (5) to guarantee exchange of teachers, students and scholarships;
- (6) to evaluate curricula and credits.

The petroleum industry this year is stepping up its spending for drilling, new equipment, and plants, according to Oil Facts. Projected budgets indicate a 6.2 per cent increase in petroleum capital expenditures, as opposed to a 1 per cent cutback in general business spending.

A freshman open house will be the first big project this year to be sponsored by the junior class. The purpose of this open house is to acquaint the freshman girls of the school with the activities of the sophomore boys at Brother River. This get-together will be held at Marian High on Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

A newly established club at Marian is the Human Relations Club, a subsidiary of the Junior Round Table of Metropolitan Detroit.

The intention of this organization is to make students aware of the problems of prejudice which exist in the world today and to prepare them to improve the world of tomorrow.

At the first meeting a film was shown on "Brotherhood," and the girls discussed the content of the movie and tried to show how brotherhood can be practiced by everyone. Susan Angott is chairman of the club. The faculty moderators are Sr. Martha Marie and Sr. Chrysta.

ON OCT. 17, the junior class spent most of the morning taking the preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. The tests were given to indicate each girl's verbal and mathematical abilities—the abilities that are most needed in college work.

The PSAT gives each girl an idea of her capacity for academic work and a rating of how she stands among students her own age who will apply for college.

A "big and little sister" luncheon was held on Oct. 19. Each sophomore girl adopted a freshman for the day and supplied the lunch for her guest. Following the luncheon, a talent show was put on by the sophomores.

The Sophomore Sodality is sponsoring a Halloween bake sale after school on Tuesday. Sodality girls will be selling cider, doughnuts and other baked goods. The proceeds from the sale will be used for apostolic works in the foreign missions.

TWENTY GIRLS from Sr. Marie Susanne's junior art class visited Cranbrook Art Institute on Oct. 12. The girls' exhibit is the ceramic exhibit.

All that remains to remind one of the 1961 Field Day, held Oct. 15, are a few wrinkled pieces of crumpled paper, snatches of class songs, and the thought that the seniors were victorious for the 18th time.

The seniors won several firsts in the events and took 11 first places in the division of cheering, marching, costumes and banners. They represented mountain climbers in their red felt hats and feathers, red knee socks and red suspenders. Their song was to the tune of "Climb Every Mountain."

The juniors were in pirate costumes. Dave Saunders, president of the class, represented the pirate captain and Lillian Jackson, field day chairwoman, was one of the British captives in the ship the juniors presented in the place of a cheer.

Editors of the "Highlander," Kay Holkins and Craig Cooley, attended a lecture given by Harry Golden, a social historian, home-span philosopher and champion of human rights. Golden has written several best sellers, among them "Only in America," "For 2¢ Plain," and "Enjoy, Enjoy."

More clubs have met and elected officers. Among these are Schuau-masters, the skiing club, of which Fred Adams is president; Future Teachers, Sue Koeneke; and the Biology Club over which Jim Pope presides.
