

Ogram-Fogarty Wedding Takes Place in Florida

Karen Elizabeth Fogarty and Arthur Michael Ogram were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at Community Reformation Church in Atlantic Beach, Fla. The Rev. R. Clyde Douglas officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are Karen Elizabeth Fogarty and Arthur Michael Ogram. The bride re-embroidered with seed pearls and mother-of-pearl sequins. The skirt was bell-shaped with a bustle effect in the back sweeping into a chapel train. A crown of seed pearls and brilliants accented by tear drop pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white stephanotis, carnations and ivy.

JOAN BENNETT was the bride's maid of honor. She wore a steel length gold dress featuring a vibrant bodice and taffeta skirt designed with two panels of shirring in the back. A gold velvet band secured her nose tip veil. She carried a bouquet of fall flowers. Sharon Kolberg was Karen's maid of honor. She was gowned identical as the maid of honor.

Walter E. Hand was the bridegroom's best man and usher. Included Roger W. Fogarty and Thomas W. Fogarty, brothers of the bride.

A RECEPTION immediately followed the ceremony at the Atlantic Beach Hotel. The newlyweds will spend two weeks in the Cayman Islands, Montego Bay and Kingston, Jamaica. They will reside in Gainesville, Fla.

200-Year-Old Church, Scene of Ceremony

Two-hundred-year-old First Congregational Church, Harwich, Mass., a New England landmark, was the scene of the marriage of Susan Scott Schaller to William Austin Harris Jr., on Saturday afternoon, 2:30 o'clock.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Regency Inn, Pleasant Bay, East Harwich.

The bride wore a wedding gown of old ivory peau de soie, which had a contour scoop neckline, a slim, unbroken sheath front and long, pointed sleeves. The veil was shoulder-length. A bouffant cathedral-length train was formed by an array of unpressed pleats. The bridal bouquet consisted of lilacs.

MAID OF HONOR was Malinda Whittlesey of San Francisco and New York, a former schoolmate of the bride. Bridesmaids were Carroll Douglas of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. John Gallman of Worcester, Mass.

Six flower girls, all nieces of the newlyweds, were Deborah and Jean Schaller of Charlotte, N. C.; Diane and Ann Ryan of Bel-Aire, Cal., and Heather and Lisa D'Arry of Geneva, Switzerland.
