Derby Teacher Attends Confab At General Motors

Gary B. Kulkis, of Birmingham's Derby Junior High School, was one of 22 men from Michigan, Indiana, New York and Ohio to attend the sixth annual General Motors Conference for High School Science and Mathematics Teachers.

Eighteen of the teachers had summer employment in GM divisions. They were selected by the GM divisions and staffs in consultation with the local school administrators.

Kulkis was employed on the engineering staff of the corporation.

The teachers observed laboratory experiments and engineering demonstrations illustrating mathematics and basic science applications at research laboratories, engineering staff, manufacturing development, styling staff, GM proving ground and GM Institute.

Clark Moves At Edison Co.

Arthur H. Clark, 2535 Yorkshire, Birmingham, has been appointed assistant to the general superintendent of Detroit Edison's construction and maintenance department.

Clark is former maintenance engineer of power plants for the company.

He started with Detroit Edison in 1935 as a cadet engineer and the following year was assigned as mechanic foreman in power plant construction.

In 1946 he was assigned to the Marysville Power Plant where he served first as maintenance engineer and later as assistant plant superintendent.

In 1953 he was named to the production department staff in Detroit where he was given responsibility for reviewing and reorganizing the company's power plant maintenance program. He was appointed maintenance engineer of power plants in 1954.

Clark was on leave from Edison from 1961 to 1963 to work with the U. S. Navy Bureau of Ships in the development of nuclear propulsion for submarines.

He is the author of several papers on power plant maintenance and a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Nixon Transfers To Ferndale Firm

With the consolidation of Straits Doors Factory and the Commercial Products division of Clopay Corp. into one plant operation, William R. Nixon, 3156 Weather Vane Lane, Troy, general sales manager of the division, has moved his offices to Ferndale, new manufacturing and sales headquarters for Straits Doors and Clopay Closures.

As an educator, Nixon served as district principal of Forks Township, Pa., Consolidated Schools. A contributor to the American School Board Journal, he served as consultant to the Natural Slate Blackboard Co.

In 1962, he joined the American Seating Co., where he was regional sales manager before joining Clopay Corp., Cincinnati, manufacturers of sectional wood folding doors, movable partitions and decorator screens.

Mayor Florence H. Willett signs the proclamation for National Home Week which will be observed in Birmingham from Sept. 23 through Oct. 1. A. L. Doenges, chairman of National Home Week; and Cheryl Tedrick, Miss National Home Week watch the signing. During the period of observance Bildor members of the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit will show approximately 50 model homes. The proclamation said in part that Birmingham is proud to be known as a city of homeowners and that the many new homes added to the community in recent years have contributed to a better living.

Bricks Can't Replace Eyes, Says Doctor

Dr. Norman Becker, 135 E. Maple, Birmingham, of the Michigan Optometric Association, said that great emphasis has been placed in recent years on the buildings and physical assets of schools, without noticing that schools also need children that are physically and mentally alert, in order to learn.

"The public often thinks that a new school is the answer to our great educational problems, but it goes beyond this", he said. "For instance, did you know that more than half the children who are slow learners or readers have vision problems?"

Dr. Becker said that a great many children have vision deficiencies that handicap them in their schoolwork.

"What good does it do to give them beautiful school buildings and carefully engineered equipment —all designed to speed up performance, when vision problems exist that make it impossible to achieve quantity and quality in learning".

He said that since 80 per cent of all learning is based on vision, his recommendation is that parents take it upon themselves to fill these modern schools with "up-to-date and visually alert children".

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

- Pregnancy Baldness
- Tranquility

Q. After my last pregnancy I lost almost all my hair. It came back but is there a chance that it won't this time?

A. Don't worry. Scalp hair follicles (sacs) go through regular cycles of growth, rest, and hair loss. Something less than 20 per cent of hair sacs are resting (and thus preparing to shed hair) at any given time. For some reason, high fever, pregnancy, and certain other conditions force more than the usual number of hair sacs into the resting cycle. After such a rest the hair then falls out in more than normal amounts. The rested and hairless follicles are then ready to bounce back and produce thick regrowth.

Q. Rocking seems to appeal to young and old alike. Why?

A. The motion of rocking apparently satisfies some primitive instinct. Babies like it and so do oldsters. Even teenagers show contentment as they "rock and roll" on the dance floor. For older people, rocking is quite healthful. The rocking chair permits all but the most feeble to get mild exercise, regardless of time or weather. Rocking improves circulation, promotes respiration, and stimulates the muscles. In addition, rocking has a sedative effect and encourages sleep toward nightfall. We are firmly convinced that every home should have a rocking chair.

Q. Here's an idea that should make a mint of money. If "contented cows" give more milk, why not give a tranquilizer to ALL milk cows?

A. This is a splendid thought—except for one thing. It has been tried and doesn't work!
