

Altar Group Sponsors Fashion Show, Lunch

THE BEVERLYS—The casual look had the undivided attention of the ladies lunching at the Birmingham Country Club yesterday. It was another successful fashion lunch for the altar society of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs and for sportswear from Pennypinchers of Franklin.

Modeling the new fall-winter collection were Misses Thomas Harrison, Henry Herpel and Thomas Raleigh of Beverly Hills, John Edward and James Moffet of Birmingham and L. Tommas and Verne Willard of Royal Oak.

St. Jude's guild members directing this year's benefit were Misses Charles Forbes and Frank Swarthout, co-chairmen; Gordon Wolfe, tickets; Ronald Badder, favors; Charles Touhey, publicity.

Trysts for the Southern Division's (largely Beverly Hills) three Little League football teams continue this week. Manager J. H. Chenet of Hillcrest, assisted by Gene Hannum of Auburn, W. G. Weston of Kirtshire and Phil Eckert of Birmingham, expects to have a varsity and two freshman elevens by Saturday.

Shuttling to Ann Arbor last week as the U of M opened the fall semester: the Hatold Ottens of Pierce with Nancy; Mrs. Herbert Layle of Riverside and Jane the Martyrs and a distinguished composer with 60 organ and choir recitals published. This summer he was an instructor in music at St. Joseph college, Ind. They have three children: Luc, 8; Colette, 4 1/2; Claire, 21 months.

Another morning coffee introduced two newcomers to East Rutland. Mrs. Mike Glass invited a dozen friends to meet both Mrs. Sylvester Ainsam and Mrs. Harry Hurd. The Hurd moved to East Rutland after the Ralph Halgrens relocated in Clearwater, Fla. last June. Mr. and Mrs. Glass were hosts then too at a farewell cocktail for their neighbors.

New to 18160 Birchwood are Dr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Haman, the former Detroit physician and surgeon retired to the village following a round-the-world cruise. Travel now, she claims, will be limited to Jackson where their married daughters live and their summer home at Broken Rocks.

VALLEY WOODS—The K. C. Wallings of Glenhill Court never expected to be snowed-in in September, but that's what happened on their two-week Colorado trip. They were stranded in Salida when snow closed the pass.

The R. J. O'Brien returned to Belvire Trail from two weeks in Copper Harbor via Duluth, Brainerd and Chicago where they visited friends.

Mrs. Al Kayser of Labor Road joined Mrs. John Flick of Belvire Trail for a four-day visit to Chicago recently with the Betsy Hensels and Pamela of Huntington Woods.

The Kayser scattered after a brief family holiday at Portage Inn—Donald to Holy Name, Kenneth to DeVry Technical Institute in Chicago and Dennis to U of D after test-driving his new Impala to Rochester, N. Y. to visit former villager, Bob Walk.

SOUTH BERTSHIRES—Junior Director of Michigan's Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Melvin Groves of Southome is attending her first board meeting in Washington, D. C. this week.

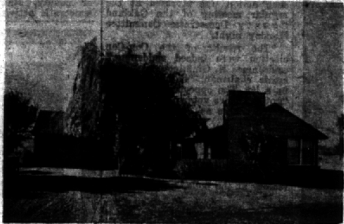

Elected last April, she was briefed on her duties at the Miami Beach convent last June. Her first speaking date (the Big Rapids opener) is already behind her; her next is Oct. 7 in Flint.

The William J. Schweigars of Plantation Lane divided their vacation time between Canada and Michigan. They were two weeks near Amherstburg and two weeks at Glen Lake.

Mrs. Sabryn Asquith invited her pinocchio pal for a swim on Coryell before cards last week, but the only thing that took a dip that night was the temperature.
