Potluck Supper, Square Dancing Planned by Local Club Members

LATHRUP
Members of Lathrup Supper Dance Club will meet Saturday at Lathrup Community Congregational Church for potluck supper and square dancing — the next to the last get-together until fall.

Chairmen of the event are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fleming who will be assisted by the Cassius Leas, the Woodrow Nelsons, Carl Andersons and William Provencher.

The Gordon Sparks of Alhambra returned recently from a six-week holiday at Jensen Beach, Fla. where friend husband got in just lots of fishing. The couple relaxed and sunned and also enjoyed several concerts at Boca Raton. Making the trip by car, they arrived home ahead of the storms that plagued the southern state.

WHEN COMMITTEE heads get together this morning at Detroit Country Day School to start the ball rolling for the school's annual Carnival and Fair, a Lathrup resident will be in there pitching. Mrs. Kenneth Wagoner of Somerset Place, who worked hard recently to make the school's senior play a success, will take part in the planning for the event, May 25, 26 and 27.

In past years, the carnival and fair has raised funds for paving the road to the school, toward the science and language departments and portable stage in the gymnasium. This year, they are of Mrs. Tyler Perkins, 4935 So. Clunbury Road, at 1 p.m. on Monday.

Mrs. William Lowrie, Michigan Division chairman of natural areas, will speak to the group on "Michigan Wild Flowers." Program chairman of the day, Mrs. Jack Souder, has arranged to have, as special guests, the members of the Meadowlake branch WNFGA.

The sale will have a lot to talk about after their combined venture—a recent fashion show. Mrs. Thomas Honks' worked with the staging.

hoping to start a scholarship fund (the first one) and purchase additional books for the library.

CRANBROOK VILLAGE
Big doin's are due at Northbrook School come May 4 when the PTA will sponsor a dance open to parents and their friends. Mrs. Louis B. Bartlett will chairmen the event and Mrs. Archie Craig will handle ticket sales.

The Continentals will provide the music and committees are being formed to plan the event which will have an underwater theme.

Looking forward to their next meeting, sometime in later April, some 15 couples residing in south Cranbrook Village have been doing a lot of fancy dance-stepping since last fall. Under the able tutelage of Mrs. Alex Sinclair, they meet monthly in each other's homes to learn the latest ball room steps.

Mrs. Sinclair, by the way, has been teaching modern dance at Kingswood School for girls and right now is resting on her laurels during the school's spring vacation.

CLOSE NEIGHBORS of Mrs. J. Gallacher and Mrs. Harry Hiltner were guests at a coffee Monday morning to introduce Mrs. Gallacher who is a recent newcomer to Cranbrook. The coffee was held at the Rock Creek home of Mrs. Hiltner.

LATHRUP
Guests of Barbara Moore at a recent potluck supper included a number of Lathrup young people, among them Diane Murphy, Judy Wuestewald, Cheryl Commons, Lyle Hartica, Sue Siefert, Steve Rentan and others.

Barbara is the daughter of the Francis R. Moores of Coral Gables and she entertained cast, crew and committee members who participated in the Southfield High School musical, "The King and I." Barbara was one of the three set designers and served also as the lighting crew.

The holiday of Mrs. William J. O'Brien in Florida recently was such a busy one that she is still resting. She visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herzog at their winter home on Casey Key, near Venice, and enjoyed a busy whirl of parties, planned for her by friends of her parents.

New Car Is Contributed by League

Dr. W. O. Obenauf, director of Pontiac State Hospital, accepts keys for a new Suburban from Mrs. Clark Alberts, member of the board of the Birmingham Junior League. The vehicle was recently purchased by the Foundation for Emotionally Disturbed Children with funds raised through activities of the Birmingham Junior League. Others pictured are K. L. Raymond, (second from right) a director of FEDC, and George Hilliker, of the Child Welfare Dept., to which the car was assigned.

Silver Wedding Honeymooners Return From Vacation in Mexico, Las Vegas

WESTCHESTER
The F. J. Matoucks of Middlebury Lane are back home after spending three weeks on a pre-25th anniversary and second honeymoon vacation.

First stop was Las Vegas where they stayed at the Sands. Then on to Los Angeles to visit former Cross Pointe and Birmingham residents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hruby. Several more days were enjoyed by the two couples in Ensenada in Mexico.

On their trip home, a stop-off in San Diego produced a nice visit with Mrs. Matouck's brother, Robert L. O'Regan and his family. A pleasant five days in San Francisco concluded the vacation.

MEADOWLAKE
The members of the Meadowlake branch WNFGA will meet with the members of the Bloomfield Farms branch at the home of Mrs. Tyler Perkins, 4935 So. Clunbury Road at 1 p.m. on Monday.

CRANBROOK - MAPLE
Mrs. Jay Pfeiffer, of Sarasota, Fla., is visiting her new granddaughter and her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Orloff of South Williambury Road.

5, welcomed baby Patricia Susan into the family on March 2.

While Martin Craig was in the East on a business trip recently, Mrs. Craig found it an excellent time to visit her parents in Sioux City, Iowa, taking Betsy, 3½, and Marcia, 1½, with her to see their grandparents.

WESTCHESTER
Looking into the home of Mrs. H. N. Gluckstad on Farmingdale Drive, a quick glance would have made you think that a fashion show was in progress. Actually, some 60 women in beautiful spring fashions were on hand for the Westchester social Benefit bridge. The proceeds from this bridge are earmarked to help two needy families.

Chairman was Mrs. Tommy Shannon; co-chairman was Mrs. Gluckstad, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Mueller and Mrs. Frank Starr.

The kindergarten registration for the Westchester School on April 18 at the Valley Woods gymnasium has been re-scheduled from 10 a.m. to 9 a.m.

Mrs. H. N. Gluckstad of Farmingdale Drive is enjoying the companionship of her mother Mrs. Christine Hager. Mrs. Hager lives in Elmhurst, Ill. and is visiting her daughter for an indefinite period.
