Church Youth Hold Meeting

Eumenoes, the combined youth groups of the First Baptist Church, First Methodist Church, First Presbyterian Church, Congregational Church of Birmingham, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and St. James Episcopal Church, all of Birmingham and St. John's Episcopal Church Royal Oak, met from 7 to 9 p.m. Sun. Apr. 8 at St. James Church, 355 W. Maple, Birmingham.

Learning the Roman Catholic point of view of Christianity—what the Protestants have in common with them and the differences that separate them, was the subject of the evening's discussion.

For the past several weeks the various groups had studied their particular denominations in reference to Roman Catholicism so the young people could discuss the question intelligently.

PRESENT TO AID in the discussion were the Rev. Robert Falk, First Methodist Church, the Rev. Jack Angerman, First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Wm. Suterlin, First Baptist Church, the Rev. Mead Bailely, Congregational Church of Birmingham, the Rev. David Van Dusen, St. James Episcopal Church, the Rev. Marshall Hunt, St. John's Episcopal Church, and Miss Vonnie Buckner, Youth Advisor, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer.

This was the third meeting of this group. At their first gathering the young people discussed the unity of Protestant churches and at a second meeting they held a dialogue.

On Palm Sun., Apr. 15 from 7 to 9 p.m. the Eumenoes will meet at the First Methodist Church for further discussion of this subject. This will be in the form of a dialogue between the young people and a panel made up of a representative of the young people, the Rev. Wm Suterlin and informed adult laymen.

Following the dialogue discussion the host church will present a chancel drama based on the events of Easter day.

'Dial-to-Life' Has New Message For This Month

The American Cancer Society's "Dial-to-Life" telephone service, which was started March 1, features a new recorded message for April on the "cancer nobody talks about." It was announced today by Mrs. Horace Prunk, public education chairman for Southeastern Michigan.

The major cancer site in both men and women, cancer of the colon and rectum, attacks 70,000 Americans annually. It claims the lives of over 40,000 men and women each year, she said, causing more deaths in the United States than any other type of cancer.

Yet three out of four could be saved through early detection by examination techniques now available, she stated.

THE APRIL "Dial-to-Life" message, which can be heard by dialing TR 2-4666, brings local residents the facts on cancer of the colon and rectum and discusses an examination that can detect cancer of this site in its early and curable stages.

"During the first month of the 'Dial-to-Life' service which relayed life-saving information on cancer of the womb and cervix, 52,047 calls were made to TR 2-4666 to hear the recorded message from a physician," said Mrs. Prunk.

"The American Cancer Society hopes all who dialed TR 2-4666 during March will call again to learn the facts."

The "Dial-to-Life" recording will be changed in May to concentrate on a third major aspect of the cancer problem.
