

Stoneycroft Tee-Off Luncheon Opens Season

In an area where much of the social life revolves around country clubs, spring is an empetus for refurbishing and reopening, setting up summer programs and announcing committee heads.

Whether it's golf, swimming, tennis or sailing, Birmingham Clubs provide the answer to summer-time vacations at home. Their facilities are put to constant use by adults as well as teenagers.

Stoneycroft Golf Club held its Tee-Off Luncheon last week at Devon Gables, where members heard about scheduled tournaments for the coming season and watched a styles show in which members modeled. Upper left, party chairman Mrs. Brady Brenton (from left) arrives with Mrs. Robert Koch and Mrs. Graham Smith. Mrs. James Blodgett (right) gives the sports clothes she modeled a realistic test. And below her, it's a wig pretty Mrs. Jack Lyons modeled in the show. Beach hats were shown by Mrs. Wayne Warren and Mrs. Thomas Perkins (from left).

This will be the fifth year that Stoneycroft has operated as a private club, its membership derived mostly from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area. Golf enthusiasts keep the sporty course in great demand, and a well-planned party circuit keeps non-golfers socially happy. Response to the Tee-Off Luncheon was so great, however, that the club dining room wouldn't accommodate, hence the use of Devon Gables.

Scout Troop Plans Lunch

Members of Girl Scout Troop 1038 have invited four girls from Christ Child House to an Easter lunch Saturday at the home of Donna Johnston.

Christ Child House, Greenfield and Joy Road, is maintained by Christ Child Guild, Christ Church, Cranbrook as a temporary home for children age five to fourteen who are from broken homes, but are not adoptable.

AS A PART of a re-organization program going on in Southern Oakland Girl Scouts, the City of Troy has been merged into one neighborhood and is now a part of Birmingham District Girl Scouts.

can take Siepi out of the opera, but you can't take opera out of Siepi!

Commenting on his own collection at a recent style show, one of Birmingham's better known merchants told an assembled group, "Almost any woman can look well in a three-hundred-and-fifty-dollar Cassini, but it takes know-how to look the same in a fifteen-dollar cotton" . . . his show included both . . .

It also takes know-how to turn off—graciously and efficiently—a dinner party for 12 when one's just landed home from two weeks out of town . . . Mrs. Henry A. Houston has that flair, as guests at her Saturday night party will attest . . . She and Mr. Houston have just returned from vacationing with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everitt Houston of Long View, Tex. . . .

State Day Celebration Planned by A. Chi O.

Alpha Chi Omegas from the State of Michigan will gather April 14 at 12:30 p.m. at Oakland Hills Country Club for their annual luncheon and State Day celebration.

The North Woodward Suburban alumnae chapter will be hosted at this year's event and anticipates greeting delegates from active chapters at the University of Michigan, MSU, Albion, Western Michigan and Central Michigan, as well as alumnae from cities throughout the state.

TWO HONORED alumnae guests will be Mrs. David W. Noble, of E. Lansing, newly-elected Province President, and Mrs. Charles D. Crawford, of Flint, District Alumnae Chairman. Mrs. Crawford will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. E. T. Burroughs of Hamilton Road, Birmingham, who is president of the hostess chapter, will give the welcoming address. Mrs. Rowe A. Balmer of Snow-shoe Circle, Bloomfield Hills, is general chairman of arrangements and will serve as toast-mistress.

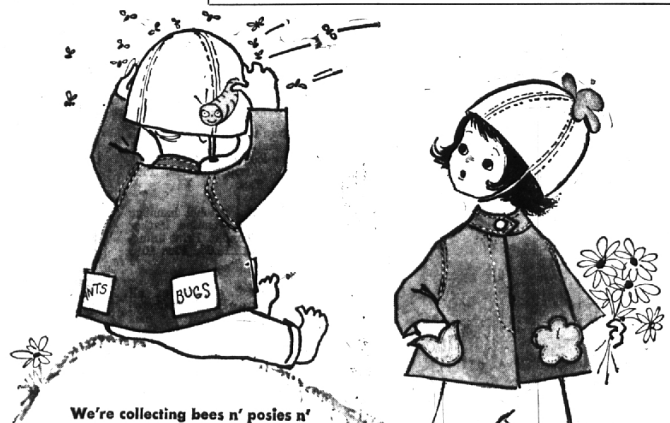

Mrs. William J. Thompson, of Farmington; Mrs. R. M. Cuddahy, of Franklin; Mrs. John Nielson, of Birmingham and Mrs. Celia Merrill Turner are among local women who will take part in a musicale to be presented during the afternoon.

OTHER BIRMINGHAM women involved in committee work for the affair are Mrs. Bruce Maynard, Mrs. Warren Rockefeller, Mrs. William C. Gidley, Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Mrs. Robert E. Dawson and Mrs. William H. Anger, Jr.
