At the last meeting of the North Suburban Alumnae Association of Alpha Delta Pi, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. John Scandalo; vice-president, Mrs. Irvin Poston; secretary, Mrs. Roy Lindgren; treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Berger.

On May 3, at the home of Mrs. George Baird, 3375 Paddington Road, Birmingham, these officers will be installed along with the following appointed officers:

Service chairman, Mrs. Carl Tideman; social chairman, Mrs. Peter S. Lindsey; ways and means chairman, Mrs. Richard Houghton; hospitality chairman, Mrs. Jake Hawley; publicity chairman, Miss Myrna Moxley; recommendation chairman, Miss Janet Dawson; benefit bridge chairman, Mrs. Burton Duchek; Birmingham Panhellenic representative, Mrs. George Baird; C.W.V. representative, Mrs. Roy Lindgren; magazine chairman, Mrs. Robert Brown; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Fred Wueller.

At the May 3 meeting, plans for State Day will be announced. State Day will bring together seven alumnae chapters throughout Michigan. They will meet in Lansing on May 5. Registration will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the A.D.Pi chapter house. Luncheon will be held at the Albert Pick Hotel, followed by a program having Mrs. James Blue, of Denver, grand secretary-treasurer, as guest speaker.

Reservations can be made through Mrs. Fred Wueller.

New Venture Is Underway

Finished with one project, Junior Group of Goodwill Industries has embarked on another. Spring venture will be a presentation of "The Women" to be given April 26, 27 and 28 at the Players Theatre on East Jefferson.

The play has been an opportunity for fun and, at the same time, has provided a chance to help an important group program: The placement in private industry of handicapped individuals.

Rehearsals have been held three times a week under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Wigle assisted by Mrs. Julian McIntosh.

Members of the cast from the local area include Mrs. Richard Allman, Mrs. Donald R. Borgerson, Mrs. Robert C. Charlton and Mrs. George H. Gotshall. Members of the production staff, also of Birmingham, include Mrs. E. Hans Scheewe, publicity, and Mrs. Harry Altick, prompter.

The play is open to everyone, and following the Saturday evening performance an afterglow champagne supper will be served to members of the cast and friends.

In Local News

FESTIVAL ITALIANO

Birmingham Country Club will be the scene of Christ Child Society's annual spring dinner dance April 28, with great hall and dining rooms to take on all the appearance of an Italian town at festival time.

Italy's national colors, red, green and white, will prevail... fountains, glistening grapevines twined across ceilings, wine bottles, candles and checked table cloths will further the illusion... replica of an Italian vendor's cart will trundle antipasto (artichoke slivers, puff biscuits centered with anchovy and other Italian delicacies) through the rooms during cocktail hour.

Mrs. Harry L. Winston Jr., Mrs. Charles H. Potts, Mrs. Walter Desimpel, Mrs. Richard King, Mrs. Frank G. Murphy and Mrs. Leo E. Desimpel are guiding hands back of this colorful effort.

KNOW-HOW HELPS

Mrs. Webster Buell is still taking bows for her so-successful chairmanship of the recent Emma Willard theater benefit. With this in mind, Mrs. Harry Stark Jr. got on the phone for advice when faced with a similar project revolving around a "My Fair Lady" performance June 10.

Must have been a good sell, for Mrs. Buell, with no official connection, promptly volunteered her services and joined Mrs. Stark's committee.

JOIN COMMUNITY

Following a two-week wedding trip to Jamaica, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Greenwald will be at home on Chasterfield Road in Bloomfield Hills.

The former B. Minor Kingsbury, of Royal Oak, spoke her marriage vows Thursday before Judge Ernest Boehm in Detroit, with Walter Laidlaw, Birmingham and S. E. Gawne of Franklin the witnesses.

The bride will be remembered as Community Press Director for the Republican Committee of Oakland County. Her husband is president of the New Center Studios, with offices in New York, Detroit and Bloomfield Hills.

ADD LOCAL-ITES

Back in town after a three years' absence are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Farrell, who moved from Rye, N. Y., into a home on Wadsworth Lane, Birmingham, just two weeks ago.

True, they miss the beauty of the Sound, the advantage of having Playland in their own backyard—with six youngsters in the family, an asset—but they're equally excited by Birmingham's new-then-shops residential sections and schools.

Taking advantage of the latter will be Joan, Sheila, David, Maurice, Charles and Marianne, all of whom stoutly announce "this is better 'n' Westchester."

WALKING DICTIONARY

Cynthia Conn, eighth-grader at Kingwood, spelled "blumptiously" correctly one day last week and found herself winner of the District Spelling Bee sponsored by a downtown newspaper. From the forty-one school's represented, Cynthia is the only student going on to the Metropolitan Finals in Detroit May 9.

Proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Cahn of Westwood Drive.
