

LATHRUP - CRANBROOK VILLAGE

Indiana Musical Week-end Enjoyed by Village Resident

CRANBROOK

"Completely thrilling and highly successful," says Mrs. Thomas R. Yetka of Southgate Drive speaking of a very special organ recital she attended recently. Mrs. Yetka was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Wachter of Berkley at a recital given by their daughter Sr. M. Margaret Andre C. S. C. at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Indiana at the church of Our Lady of Loreto.

Sr. M. Andre has been a music teacher at St. Joseph school in South Bend for the past two years. She is an organ major at St. Mary's College, has studied at the University of Detroit and for seven years was organist at Our Lady of La Salette Church, Berkley. Her recital was a partial fulfillment for a degree of Bachelor of Music.

Among her selections were Concerto in D. Minor by Vivaldi-Bach, Passacaglia by Frescobaldi-Bolet, Madrigal by Sowerby and Tu Es Petrus by Mulet.

Also present at the recital were Sr. Andre's sister Mrs. Richard Brown and Mr. Brown of Boston and her brother Gerald Wachter.

LATHRUP

Sadly and quietly officers of the Lathrup Woman's Club closed the door of the House-in-the-Woods last week for the last time. After more than twenty years the group has held its last meeting and party in the beautiful old home that has sheltered them so well. Possessions the group has gathered throughout the years have been stored until a new home for the club can be found. Echoing the sentiments of the club's more than 350 members a letter of appreciation has been sent to Mrs. Charles D. Kelley for her kindness in permitting the use of her home during all these years.

Board members of the Lathrup Woman's Club will open their homes this week for a series of quiet little luncheons, a change over from the monthly parties generally given by the club. The 26 board members each have planned to invite eight club members or guests with profits to be turned over to the club. Mrs. Frederick A. Byington planned her party a little ahead with luncheon for eight last Thursday. Prizes for high score bridge players were presented by the club.

The Don Tylers of Rock Creek Drive were a little alarmed last week when three tables of bridge guests failed to show up at the appointed time. Held up by a fire on Twelve Mile road, the guests finally arrived more than an hour late commenting that the Tylers had gone all-out to provide them with an exciting evening.

LATHRUP

There's a group of friends and neighbors in Lathrup who delight in celebrating birthdays. If one is a member of the group, one is prepared, after several years of surprises, for their impromptu little get-togethers. Last week the group dropped in on Mrs. Clarence Crenshaw for coffee and cake and to present a delightful little figurine for her collection. Among the birthday well-wishers were Mrs. Daniel Hines, Mrs. Robert Knighton, Mrs. Leo Stanley, Mrs. Robert Marshall, Mrs. Wendell Doering, Mrs. Frang Waldecker, Mrs. Edward Marvin and Mrs. Ila Smith.

Hosting a group of twenty friends and neighbors last Saturday evening were the Dean Duncans of Pleasant Trail.

Because the theme of the party was scheduled to be slightly Bohemian obliging guests came casual and straw hatted to dine on exotic flavored Bohemian foods and view the 120 color slides made by the Duncans during a trip through the islands.

June and Chuck Koptka were callers at the square dance club meeting held at Community Congregational Church last Saturday evening. Chairmanship the food committee were the Al Flemings assisted by the William Applegards, the Bill Bush, the Bill Provinciners and the Ernest Coverdills.

The annual father-daughters banquet of Girl Scout troops 1063 and 1064 will be held tonight at Community Congregational Church. The girls and their leaders Mrs. G. B. Shaw, Mrs. Robert A. Pullar, Mrs. John L. Barrett, Mrs. Walter Baughman, Jr., and Mrs. Joseph Uleski have planned the dinner. The girls and their fathers will see, for the first time, slides taken during two years of their activities.
