Chope Throws Weight Around for Tartars

Tom Chope, former Seahom High School shot-putter, is throwing his weight around at Wayne State University and Tartar track coach Frank McBride couldn't be happier.
 The muscular Chope, who arrived at WSU by way of Albion College, is the Tartars' No. 1 shot put and discus man as the outdoor season swings into action.
 DURING THE recent indoor season, Chope, a 6'0" 240-pounder, registered a winning shot toss of 47'-11 1/2" against the University of Chicago, which is his best effort to date. The toss was two feet, four inches shy of the varsity record.

Country Day Teams Suffer Setbacks In Track, Tennis
