

Foreign Dolls to Enhance Festival

Birmingham and Bloomfield women on the committee for the American Field Service Festival, May 5, have spent long hours recently dressing foreign dolls to go on sale the day of the Festival at Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester. Mrs.

Brooks Marshall, Mrs. Bethel Kelley and Mrs. William C. Gordon (from left) met last week at Mrs. Edward H. Leichen's home on Lowell Court for a final check of the miniature collection.

Birmingham Dads Entertain Daughters

Every available place was taken at the Detroit Athletic Club's annual Fathers and Daughters Party last Saturday. In the crowd of 650, there was a substantial number from the Birmingham-Bloomfield area on hand for luncheon and the entertainment. The party followed its popular format of one o'clock luncheon at long tables in the gymnasium where DAC Beaver members ushered and dispensed charm bracelets to daughters of every age from three years up. An overflow of 200 came from the Pontchartrain Room to the gym balcony at show time.

DAC PRESIDENT Semon Knudsen was there with his daughters, Lisa and Kristina; nearby were Norman J. Fredricks and his seven-year-old Anne; Warren E. Avis squired Wendy. Thomas J. Bolton and Sally were with Tom's brother-in-law and niece, Frank S. Moran and Mitche. This foursome has attended each DAC dad-daughter fete for the past 10 years. Frederick W. Zimmermann exuded pride as he and his daughter met friends — she's the former Pauline Zimmermann, now Mrs. Richard Schultz of Chicago. The Schultzes and their children are at the Zimmermann home in Bloomfield Hills for the weekend.

MARGARET AUDETTE, of the Hills, attended with her grandfather, Edward F. Fisher, and her cousins, Margaret and Rosemary Lundy, of Grosse Pointe.

Julie and Amy Valpey, of Birmingham, had a wonderful time at the party with their grandfather, F. R. Valpey, of Pleasant Ridge. Gene A. White brought Cynthia, and others were Horace D'Angelo and Diana; Fred A. Erb with Wendy and Leslie William H. Gilardy with Pamela, Mary Ellen and Anne; W. Reid Halla with Heidi and Julie, who sat with F. Robert Krue and Karen.

Air Force Nurse Completes Course

IN THE THROG at DAC's opening floor show that same evening were the John C. Kinels and their guests including the Benjamin Anihals, the Leslie Allmans and the Louie Coles of Pontiac at another table, the V. D. Hannas entertained the Harry H. Meads of Milford, the Ralph Marks and the Frazer Davids.

The club's noon-to-eight o'clock buffet dinner Easter Sunday brought a continuous procession, totaling more than 700 when the count was in — it was a real family day.

Mrs. Dugald Black entertained her son-in-law and daughter, the Donald Hearneys, at the DAC's Easter dinner, also their children, Kenny, Ann and Carol Jean, and Mr. Kearney's parents, the John Kearneys. Absent was Mr. Black who is in Spain on business for Bendix International. As his office now is located in New York City, he and Mrs. Black are about to move to Darien, Conn., May 1.

Annual Event Set

The Mothers' Club at Brother Rice's High School have scheduled its annual card party for May 18 at 8 p.m., in the school gym. Mrs. Paul Butcher and Mrs. Robert Whiting are in charge of the tickets.

Fashion-Travelogue Sparks Spring Calendar at Marian

"Motoramic Michigan", "Seaway and Saguenay", "Europe Ho", three exciting titles to three even more exciting scenes of fashion-travelogue as the Mothers' Club of Marian High School presents "Dreams Around the World", an offering which promises something new and different in the world of suburban-area fashion shows. It will be held May 5, at 1 p.m. at Marian High School, 7225 Labar Road.

An annual affair, with its beginning just three years ago when Marian was in its first year, it has grown as rapidly as the school which presents it. Last year, with the co-operation of a national magazine and a local store, the Mothers' Club second venture, "Let's Put 'U in Colour", put the Marian fashion show on a list of shows-to-be-seen. This year, seven leading women's apparel shops will participate. In addition to these, students from the tailoring class at Marian will show clothing they have made. Over half-a-hundred mothers and daughters will model fashions from the stores, student models selected by classmates in contests earlier this spring.

The Travelogue has been written by Mrs. Sidney McKenna, 6386 Thorncroft, Birmingham. First president of the club, former model and talented mother of five, she will act as fashion show co-ordinator and do the commentary.

SUCH AN undertaking requires much preparation and planning. The committee, ably guided by Mrs. D. L. Heiser, 31065 Stafford, Birmingham, club president-elect and mother of nine, including a sophomore at the all-girl-school, has been fortunate in receiving assistance from local business men, airlines and travel agents willing to provide everything necessary to create an atmosphere of travel and transform Marian corridors into Parisian streets, complete with boutique and cafe.

An opaque screen-projector will provide background for each scene as the models present appropriate attire to wear from dawn through dusk while touring Michigan, in Montreal, and on board a liner as it sails through the St. Lawrence Seaway to Saguenay. Finally, it will be New York and a plane trip to Europe and its exciting vacation playgrounds.

hospitality committee whose chairman is Mrs. Vincent Flaherty, 767 Suffield, Birmingham. Approximately 7000 tea sandwiches and cookies have been made by the women to be frozen until needed. Mrs. Earle Hoener, 18823 San Quentin, Lathrup Village, has been in charge of the food preparation. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Theodore Johnson or her co-chairman, Mrs. Arthur Harrington. Tickets will be available at the door the afternoon of the show. Proceeds from the fashion show will be given to Mother Mary Aquin, principal of the school, to defray cost of the installation of the closed circuit and airborne TV system recently installed in the school.
