

Birmingham Woman Sets Party Theme

Practically every morning Mrs. Roy H. Edwards, busy president of the Women's City Club of Detroit who lives on Orchard Hill Drive, joins the throng of commuters to keep a full day of appointments in her office as volunteer head of the largest City Club in the world at 2110 Park Ave.

But one morning recently, she drove over to the Haddon Road home of Mrs. Phillip R. Flanders of Birmingham to get a peek at tropical decorations that resourceful lady has started to collect for the unique Michigan-Florida party at the City Club Thursday evening, Aug. 23.

Mrs. Flanders originated the idea of a dinner (husbands to be included) at which Florida members of the City visiting "Shomerg" in August could join their Detroit friends for an evening of fun in the club they cherish so much they keep out-of-town memberships active.

MOST OF THE Social Affairs Committee will be on hand to help the chairman make this new idea a smash hit and there'll be a reverse function after the holidays when the Florida-Michigan dinner is given in the Southland. Gourmet food, for which the City Club is famous, will start at the 6 o'clock cocktail hour in the Executive Suite. The dinner menu will feature roast beef tenderloin with mushroom caps.

MRS. FLANDERS

Lighted model jets, glamorized fishnets over the ceiling and palm trees will transform the auditorium into a tropical setting with the same air-conditioned comfort that all Florida night spots regard as essential today!

Local Scouts Plan Take-Off For White Deer

The home of Mrs. Donald Richardson, 1776 Henrietta, Birmingham, was the scene recently of a last holiday and packing session for eight Southern Oakland Senior Scouts bound for the White Deer Encampment at Three Lakes, Wis., Aug. 11.

Under their Wolverine banner, Southern Oakland's Alternate Roundup Patrol will join 12,000 metropolitan area Senior Scouts and leave Detroit after a noon time send-off.

Three Lakes and the White Deer Encampment are designed to give the girls the finest experience in primitive camping. Backpack hikes on wilderness trails, cooking over wood fires, boating, swimming and the making of lashed camp equipment are all on the girls' agenda.

PATROL D has been trained since last November by Rita Fawcett, Girl Scout professional, who will conduct the final planning session. Each Patrol has planned a demonstration of typical Michigan activities, and Patrol D, dressed in checked gingham aprons, will demonstrate the making of Michigan cherry tarts, using a reflector oven.

Patrol members are Beverly Williams, Troy, patrol leader; Mary Richardson, Birmingham, assistant patrol leader; Mary Ann Kerr, Royal Oak; Barbara Barclay, Farmington; Joanne Vlyakov, Royal Oak; Merrilee MacIvaine, Farmington; Kathleen Block, Royal Oak; and Kirkland Hall, Birmingham.

TO KEEP LOCAL Southern Oakland newspapers informed about White Deer Encampment activities, Merrilee MacIvaine has been chosen as official correspondent, while Mary Ann Kerr will be in charge of photography to accompany the stories.

White Deer Encampment will be in session for two weeks and each girl will be returning with suggestions and graphic demonstration for the benefit of other Girl Scouts in her home district.
