BACK To SCHOOL

School time again? Can it be possible? Seems like the kids just got out for the summer.

Yes, that's what it seems like, but the weeks have passed and it's time now to start thinking about the trek back to school.

Back to the playgrounds, to the classrooms, to the teachers and the principals, to the sound of voices ringing through the halls, to pencils, books and writing tablets, to homework.

Yes, school resumes in just a couple more weeks. And in this special back-to-school section of The Birmingham Eccentric, you will find most of the information you need to know to get your youngsters enrolled again. It is chock full with news and feature stories, photographs and advertisements related to the opening of school.
