LOVE THY PET!

(ESPECIALLY AT CHRISTMAS)

The cold, raw winds of winter cause much discomfort to home type animals — like dogs, cats, people, etc. We buy gloves, coats and earmuffs — but, what about Fido?

Buy IT a handsome, 100% wool, knitted SWEATER. They fit snugly — no bag, no sag. Bring IT in for a fitting. The colors are varied, as are the styles. The prices modest — from $2.35 to $6.

We play bridge and games and read and watch TV — but IT can only sleep or play. We do have tranquilizers for IT but suggest a TOY such as the fabulous RAW BONE (for Fido) and CATNIP TOYS (for MIMI the cat). The bones range from 29c to $1.75 and the catnip things from 20c to 79c.

We hang OUR stockings at the fireplace each year but what about FIDO and MIMI. Marvelously packed stockings in gay Christmas colors are most acceptable. (from our experience) to their lovely pets.

From 79c to $3.50

Couple Goes South For Son's Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Morse Jr. of 5170 Deepwood, Bloomfield Hills, left by jet last week for Jacksonville, Fla., to attend the marriage there Saturday of their son, Lt. (jg) John von Maur Morse and Elizabeth Ann Mock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Douglas Mock of Jacksonville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride walked up the aisle of Main Street Baptist Church wearing a gown of candlelight satin highlighted by re-embroidered Alencon lace. It was fashioned with a Florentine neckline, molded bodice, full-length sleeves and a chapel train. Her flowers were white roses, orchids, lily of the valley and stephanotis.

Sylvia Harless was maid of honor and Marlene Pillsbury a bridesmaid. Both wore aqua satin and carried pink roses. Flower girl Linda Lovatt was in pink satin, carrying a lace flower basket of pink and white.

Mr. Morse was best man for his son, and ushers included Curtis D. Mock and Samuel D. Mock, brothers of the bride. Gary D. Mock, a nephew, was ring bearer.

Following a wedding trip to New York City and Bloomfield Hills, the couple will be at home in Washington, D. C.

FRANKLIN VILLAGE

Villagers' Yule Greetings Accent Homespun Theme

The Franklin Cemetery's Auxiliary will exchange gifts and season's greetings at the home of Mrs. Don Brownley on Square Lake Road, following a pot-luck luncheon today.

Grandparents, parents, some 11 brothers and sisters and other interested parties of first graders in Mrs. Jacqueline Koch's room will be guests for a Christmas tea party this Friday.

PLANS TO FORMALLY organize the Franklin Historical Society as a member chapter of the Michigan Historical Society have temporarily stalled. Leading light Bert Wood was unable to make two meetings called for the purpose of electing eight trustees, so it may be after Christmas before definite steps are taken.

The society hopes to develop a program for the restoration and preservation of valuable documents and artifacts related to Franklin's early history.

HOSTESSES ARE finalizing plans for holiday parties. Getting their bid in early are the Stan PAYS of Franklin Road. They'll hold open house Sunday for at least 35 of their friends. This should be an eventful day with grandchild Kim getting baptized in the morning.

The Ray Adamses of Willowgreen have already sent their invitations for their annual Christmas party and open house on Dec. 22.

The Stoneaks residents made plans long ago to have their holiday party at the Victor Browns on Franklin Road, Dec. 29.

The Forrest W. Starrett's of Irving have plans for an open house on Dec. 23 for friends to come and meet their daughter Cynthia's new husband, Peter Michael Waldman. The young couple are coming down from Boston for the occasion.

The Jim Gillens of Wellington Road also lost no time in getting friends to reserve Dec. 30 for their open house to meet Rita Wallethner of Seattle who will become the Junior Mrs. Gillen next year.

The Robert Owens of Franklin Park Drive will introduce their new neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Larsen, at an open house on Dec. 30 also.

IT APPEARS to be more than coincidence that three successive occupants of the old red brick house on Franklin Road have become Franklin Volunteer Fire Department families. First it was the David Shephards, next the Frank Youngs, and now John Mand comes flying out the door at the sound of the siren.

Wing Lake Club Maintains Busy Schedule

In preparation for their sale Dec. 7 of Christmas gifts at the Bloomfield Shopping Center, Telegraph at Maple, members of the Wing Lake Shores Branch, WNFCA, spent most of the month attending workshops in various members' homes.

Mrs. W. F. Kussy of Lakeview Ct. was among the hostesses, while Mrs. Kenneth Moore, ways and means chairman, assisted in supervising and coordinating the work.

The ladies found time, also, to meet in the home of Mrs. Mark Nielsen for a Christmas-around-the-world taste luncheon. Favorite dishes from different countries were sampled and exchanged, after which everyone walked next door to the Edgar C. Thorne home for the annual cookie exchange.

Pair at Home In Chicago After Rites

Following a wedding trip to the Laurentian Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Emil Stusek are at home in Chicago. Formerly Patricia Ann Birney, the bride is the daughter of Mrs. John T. Birney of Baldwin Ave., Birmingham, and the late Mr. Birney, and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Stusek of Oaklawn, Ill.

Given in marriage by her brother, John, the bride repeated her vows at a double ring ceremony Nov. 24 in Holy Name Church with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Eugene E. Paddock officiating. A Papal blessing was bestowed on the couple.

MR. AND MRS. STUSEK

A gown of taffeta and Alencon lace, featuring a sabrina neckline accented by the lace and tiny pearls, was worn by the bride. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a jeweled pearl headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of carnations and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

HONOR ATTENDANT was a Peggy Birney, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids included Connie Canever, Pat Nolan and Sarah Thornbury. They were all gowned alike in blue velvet and carried bouquets of autumn colored gar-tations.

William Stusek was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were another brother, John; Rick Grattan and James Birney, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Birney was attired in aqua and silver brocade with matching accessories, and Mrs. Stusek chose a gold ensemble. Both mothers wore corsages of white orchids.

Following the service a reception was held at the Pagoda.
