Six Couples Win In Oakland Hills Bridge Tourney

Members of Oakland Hills Country Club's mixed duplicate bridge league were undaunted by last Thursday's blustery snow storm. The avid card players turned out in full force for the last meet of the current bridge tournament.

Winners at the North-South position were: first, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Hudson; second, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Quinn, and third, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Chenault.

were: first, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gunn, second, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ralph Angle, and third, Mr. and Mrs. John F. O'Hara Jr.

MR. AND MRS. Charles B. O'Neil are co-chairmen of the mixed bridge tournament, which is sponsored by Oakland Hills Country Club's special activities of which recently elected board of directors member I. Ralph Mason is chairman.

The Thursday night bridge league tournament will resume competition in February, 1963, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Clinton.

Stuff Paperbacks Into Stockings, Says Consultant

Consultant to Santa Claus is one of the roles Dr. Harry Hahn, director of instruction for the county board of education, plays this month. An expert in the teaching of reading, Hahn suggests books for Christmas. He particularly urges parents of first and second graders to see that an assortment of colorful, interesting reading matter is under the Christmas tree. Paper-back books as stocking stuffers is another suggestion. "Many of the best children's books are now available in paperback editions for less than half-a-dollar," Hahn said. A father of four children, he emphasized that a supply of good books during the stay-in-the-house weather ahead can be beneficial to the parent as well as the child.

Dear Santa,
How are you? Would you please bring me toys? I want some books, a doll and a collector's box.
Love,
Sandra Tylicki
