mas Eucharists to the parish's regular schedule of worship services.

On Christmas Eve, the Sacrament of Forgiveness will be available in the church from 5 p.m. until 6 p.m. Then, at 7:30 p.m. the first Christmas Eucharist will be held, with the full choir in attendance. At that time, children of the church school will furnish the creche at the altar rail by bringing forth the figures of the Nativity scene which are explained by the rector, the Rev. Carl R. Sayers.

AT THIS SERVICE, too, will be the children's annual presentation of white gifts (gifts, wrapped in plain white paper, which will later be distributed to the children who are being cared for at Pontiac State Hospital).

The second Christmas Eucharist will open at 11:30 p.m. with an

The third Christmas Eucharist will be held at 10 a.m. on Christmas Day. At each of these services of Holy Communion, the Epistle will be read by a layman from the congregation, as is the parish custom. At the two Christmas Eve Eucharists the wardens of the church, Luel Simmons and William Martin, will read the two Epistles.

BHAM UNITARIAN

The Birmingham Unitarian Church will hold a special candlelight service with music, readings and singing of traditional carols on Monday at 8 p.m.

An offering of canned or packaged food will be collected before the service to be distributed to needy people during the Christmas season.

AFTERWARDS, coffee and punch will be served in the church social hall.

The choir invites members and friends of the church to participate in a traditional cavalcade of caroling and congeniality on Friday. They will sing carols before the homes of church members and return to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dearth of Bloomfield Hills for food and refreshments. They will start from the home of Mrs. Walter Pedersen, 364 W. Cambridge, Ferndale.

There were no cattle in the New World when Columbus discovered it. The Spanish conquerors of Mexico brought the first cattle to graze on the American mainland and they also imported the iron with which to brand them; Hernandez Cortez, the conqueror of Mexico, was one of the first successful ranchers in the Western Hemisphere. His famous brand—three crosses, representing the Holy Trinity—was the first cattle-brand to be used in the New World.

On Saturday, Dec. 15, the annual Crippled Children's party was held at Kingswood School from 2-4 p.m. Rev. Walter H. Young of Cranbrook School and the Cranbrook Kingswood Church Cabinet, that consists of 12 members: Judy Sanden, Mary Sprague, Pat Hewlett, Danny Miskinis, Sheila Dewlin, Diana Gornick, Dick Marz, Leticia B. McKevey, Rick Stolorow, Steve O'Grady, and Chip Brethen, entertained the youngsters by first showing color slides of Hudson's Thanksgiving Parade, and last year's Christmas Fantasy at the Ford Rotunda in the Christmas Fantasy; they were taken by Mr. James McDonald who also takes slides of the Cranbrook institutions and shows them during his travels.

Tom Barlow, of Cranbrook, played the role of Santa Claus, and Danny Miskinis played Christmas Carol. Bell ringers from the Kingswood lower school provided the music with some musical entertainment. For about two weeks prior to the party, the girls of Kingswood helped out by making dresses for dolls and the boys of Cranbrook made model cars, which were given to the children as Christmas presents. The Visiting Nurses Association in Oakland County brought stockings filled with fruit, nuts and candy which were filled by the local first Scouts.

Dec. 16, Marquis Hall of Cranbrook held its annual Christmas Party in the Student Club. The following day, the Lower School raised the Page Hall roof with their Christmas party.

Roger Marsh, Cranbrook's special exchange student from London, England, is going to spend his Christmas vacation first at the home of Bill Ingle in Evansville, Ind., then he is going to migrate to the home of Steve Good in Rochester, Minn. This time Roger can't wait to answer student's questions about "How much turkey are you going to eat, Roger?" Before the Thanksgiving Vacation, he smugly replied, "It's an American holiday, you know."

Abdullah Al-Awadh, Cranbrook special student from Kuwait, is going to spend Christmas in New York at the International House. Abdul's government, not his family, provides the money and allows that he needs. The Kuwait government has sent many Kuwait boys to the United States for higher education and they will all

East Hills Junior High

By BETSY BLOSSER Special Writer

In the past week East Hills Junior High School has been full of concerts, assemblies, girls in dark skirts and white blouses, and constant rehearsals of instrumental and choral ensembles.

Tuesday morning the Student Council presented an assembly during part of first and second hours. This program featured the band, school choir, and speech class. Under the direction of Mr. Lively and the hand opened the program with the "Star Spangled Banner." Five marches and pieces were played by the band and the choir sang a medley of outstanding songs including "No Man is an Island" and "The Happy Wanderer." Miss Cleveger's speech class gave an impressive program of selections also.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 13, East Hills gave its Christmas program at 8 p.m. Each person performing wore dark skirts or slacks, white blouses or skirts and dark shoes. Christmas numbers were featured by the band and choir, and a repeat performance plus two Christmas selections of the Tuesday speech program.

Students were asked by the Student Council to bring to school cans of fruit or vegetables, paid for by their own money. This drive was conducted to make the inmates of Pontiac State Hospital to have a happier Christmas.

Mrs. VanRyzin's home economics class has put on a display in the showplace of the student lounge. Eighth and ninth grade students were asked to make a Christmas decoration, like a small tree or wreath. The work of many students is being shown. There have been continuous crowds around the showcase admiring the work of the two grades.

Last week, Friday, Dec. 7, the Teen Club meeting was cancelled because of poor weather conditions. Miss Cooney, sponsor, was not able to return to school that evening and the refreshments had not yet arrived.

Choir and general music classes attended the "Mikado" at the Fisher Theater Tuesday evening. Mr. Poland, choir director, at Bloomfield Junior High, arranged for getting the tickets. Buses left East Hills at approximately 6:45 p.m. Chaperones for the trip were Mr. Lively and Miss Cleveger. It was an evening enjoyed by all.

All students and faculty members of East Hills Junior High School wish you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
