NORTH ADAMS

Carolers Gather at James Cook Home

By ELIZABETH YATES
 MI 6-1682

Christmas caroling and parties are in full swing throughout the North Adams area. In Concord Green a group of carolers gathered at the Lamplighter Lane home of the James Cooks on Sunday evening for a Christmas song fest. As the group strolled through the subdivision caroling, they were joined by many more residents.

After touring the area, the beginning group, the C. Gibson Medleys, the John Stencels, the John Hites and the John Kaitches, returned to the gold-and-red-decorated Cook home for refreshments.

Cheryl Cook, like her parents, is also planning to gather a group of "small fry" together for caroling throughout the area this week.

THE DONALD HITES of Lamplighter Lane will be entertaining 40 guests of Birmingham and Bloomfield at a "holiday open house" on Saturday afternoon. Among the group entering the green-and-red-trimmed house will be relatives Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hite of Waddington Road and daughter Gloria, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cardwell of Grosse Isle and Tim Cardwell of Boston, Mass.

The relatives will also join the Hites on Christmas Day. On Sunday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson of Lamplighter Lane will entertain at an "open house" for 50 friends and neighbors. Mrs. Johnson's Christmas decor will carry out an "old-fashioned Christmas" theme.

MR. AND MRS. Fred Hollis of Winchcombe Road entertained at an Egg Nog Party on Sunday afternoon. Their 40 guests were all of Chapel Hills Estates.

The Herbert Mills of Winchcombe Road invited the residents of Chapel Hills Estates to their home on Thursday evening for caroling and refreshments. A Christmas potluck supper was hosted by the Jack Pitts of Candlestick Court on Saturday evening. The group of Concord Green couples began the monthly club in September and include the Walter Conkings, the Robert Schmalers, the James Cooks, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Johnson, the John Stencels, the Donald Hites and the Gib Medleys.

A houseguest at the Pitt home during the holidays will be Pitt's father, Sam Pitt of New Jersey. He arrived recently in the United States after spending the last year in Troon, Scotland.

ARRIVING HOME for the Christmas holidays on Friday was the SP4 Spence Olson, son of the Arthur Olsons of Kernway in Concord Green. He is presently stationed at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Another member of the household home for the holidays is daughter Eileen, a student at Michigan State. On Saturday evening Eileen was escorted to the Christmas Prater Dance at the University of Michigan.

The Kern Lake Garden Club members gathered at the holiday-decorated Kernway Drive home of Mrs. Raymond Conlon for their Christmas meeting and party on Tuesday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Conlon was Mrs. Robert Burch of Kernway Drive.

Mrs. Arthur Hyde of the Birmingham Branch of the WNPGA spoke to the group on decorating the home for Christmas.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Hasler, Jr., of Winchcombe Road will be entertaining 40 area residents at a "holiday open house" on December 28.

An evening Christmas coffee was hosted by Mrs. Gerald Bertin of Winchcombe Road, introducing her new neighbor, Mrs. Walter Hasler, Jr., to area residents on Monday.

Franklin Firm Is Purchased by Curiosity Shoppe

The owner of Franklin Interiors, Inc., James A. Branstrom, announced the sale of the business and building Monday to Michael M. Michaels, owner of the Curiosity Shoppe, 1770 S. Telegraph Road, Bloomfield Township.

Michaels said he will use the Franklin building as a second Curiosity Shoppe. The original store has been at the Telegraph address for six years.

Branstrom opened the Franklin company in January, 1959. In addition to interior decorating, his firm specialized in the sale of fine furniture. He is a resident of 20091 Romany Way, also in Franklin.

Mrs. William Bertin of Ledbury Road, Others in entertainment, Mrs. Thomas Ankeny; zoning, Charles Schwan; maintenance, Robert Pheuch; education, Herbert Mills; membership, Mrs. Harold Gott.
