interest, long-term educational loans be made available to them. Yntema spoke at a Leo M. Franklin Memorial Lecture at Wayne State University.

The Bloomfield Hills School Board adopted a resolution Tuesday night planning a proposed day-night planting at Woodward and lying south of Co-finance erection of a swimming pool on the school election ballot for June 11. School district voters will then decide whether a $500,000 bond issue should be okayed.

The condition of some of the trees downed in a storm Monday indicates that the county may have been hit by a twister, according to Richard Kincaid, superintendent of the county forestry department. Kincaid said that a number of roads were partially blocked, mostly by fallen trees. The southeast part of Oakland "was not hit too hard," Kincaid said. Rochester and the area north of Pontiac were hardest hit.

Pine Lake Country Club women golfers opened the season with a breakfast at the club, followed by a business meeting this morning. Recently-elected officers who attended were Mrs. Clyde N. Deering, chairman; Mrs. James R. Quinn of Bloomfield Hills, co-chairman; Mrs. H. Vere Hodges, treasurer; Mrs. W. B. Booth of Birmingham, secretary; and Mrs. Dale Nolf, also of Birmingham, publicity.

The Birmingham Art Center has opened a new show at gallery headquarters. The exhibition is entitled "Prominent Painters and Sculptors of Michigan," and has been handled under the chairmanship of Eliot and Sally Robinson. The show is open to the public every day except Monday.

Planning board chairman Ed Proctor summed up a public hearing Monday night in Bloomfield Township as "exceptionally fine" and the audience as "intelligent." Over 200 citizens were at the meeting at which discussion was centered on the township's proposed new zoning ordinance.

Parking meter revenues in Birmingham hit an all-time high for April, according to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley. Reporting to the commission Monday, Moxley said that meter revenues for the week of April 21-27 hit the highest total ever recorded on a quarterly survey.

Members of the newly-formed Cranbrook Village Garden Club were the guests May 3 of the parent group in Beverly Hills. Speaker of the evening was Mrs. Clarence McBryde of Detroit who discussed "Japanese Flower Arrangements." Hostess was Mrs. William Penney, vice president.

Issue of May 17
Construction on new retail development costing $500,000 in downtown Birmingham has been completed and four of the stores are already in operation. A fifth is scheduled to open next month. The site, "Hamilton Row," was developed by John W. Butler, executive vice president of Demery's. Original plans for the development (Continued on Next Page)
