

Deadline Feb. 28
On Reflectorization
Refunds from State

Time is running out for motorists who want a 35-cent refund credit for reflectorized plates they never received.

The legislative act which authorizes these credits sets a deadline which makes these refund cards apply only on purchases of 1962 plates and then only if they are used before the Feb. 28 deadline.

PERSONS ELIGIBLE for refunds are urged to mail their credit application cards to the Department of State in Lansing not later than Feb. 15.

When these cards are received in Lansing, they are checked with the master record and refunds of 35-cents or more are authorized.

CREDIT REFUND cards are available in all 300 branch offices of the Department of State. Motorists can mail in their own cards or give them their local branch manager who will send them to Lansing for validation. This process takes from two to four days, depending on the work load at the time, plus the days the card is in the mail.

Upside-Down Look At Lopsided World

By RUTH VOGT
Special Writer

Even though well read reporters try to convince us that our biggest problems facing us to day are world tensions, the emerging common market or the awakening little countries, any woman can affirm that our worries lie in entirely different fields.

Keeping clean, keeping the family well and keeping your beauty fresh are far more pressing if one takes seriously television, newspaper or magazine ads.

"Ladies, have you been using the right kind of detergent for your laundry?" Every half hour of the day some worried expert takes this terrible problem to his heart. His greatest concern is to see that every woman used weekly washings doesn't fail in this most important job.

"EXAMINE YOUR sheets the next time you put them away. If you fret about greyness, try our product for just one week; your sheets as well as your face will wear a brighter look!"

The second hurdle to overcome for peace of mind? The teeth. Great danger lurks behind every set that each member of the family possesses. (It seems that horrible tiny germs are forever nibbling away at every one's enamel all day long.)

"But if you use this tooth-paste, no more need you worry about holes creeping into those teeth. Please try it!"

EVERY EXPERT declares that the woman of the house will be happy, happy all day long if she buys the right brand.

If a woman gets white sheets, clean teeth for all her family, she cannot rest. There's the millions of "cold germs" sneaking about just waiting to grab hold of someone's unsuspecting throat.

"In the night they might creep in. During the day they can also grab hold. Ladies, protect little Johnny's tender arms by having a hand, always, our Nose Spray!"

NOW FOR THE beauty department. No Mother is to be called a "mother" unless she is perpetually "fresh, lovely and nice to be around." At all times! This includes her hair, her skin, her hands (and most important, her underarms). Oh, her breath, too. Every one of these must be absolutely sweet, sweet, sweet.

"Ladies, do you feel as fresh as a daisy or do you look and act and feel like a tired old dish-rag?" There's no excuse for resembling a tired old dish-rag. Never. Not if a woman is wise enough to take advantage of all the products exposed, hourly, via the picture tube. From head-ache pills right on down to soothing cream to apply to the face and hands, one can look, act and smell like a daisy all day long.

OF COURSE, minor ills, such as spots on furniture, rugs or walls, can be eliminated by a hundred different remedies.

"Don't scream if Susan spills ink on the sofa. Run for our spot-remover and don't spank Susan," they insist.

If Susan's listening, she sometimes laughs. She sees nothing wrong in her ink-spreed. Even a scolding seems out of line, what with these new inventions.

After a day of being exposed to such "problems," a woman's sense of values sometimes runs the risk of becoming lop-sided. "There's nothing wrong with our world that a bit of detergent or spot remover won't erase," she sometimes sighs in relief.

Swaney Heads
Hospital Drive

Russel A. Swaney, 1153 Buckingham, Birmingham, has been appointed campaign fund chairman for an eight million dollar pediatric facility for Children's Hospital in the new Medical Center.

Announcement of the appointment was made last week at the Children's Hospital Board of Trustees' annual meeting.

Swaney, vice president in charge of the Detroit Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, will have Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, president of the board of trustees, and William M. Day, president of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., as campaign co-chairman.

ACCORDING TO Swaney, the major phases of Children's campaign for its new hospital will be conducted during the next six months, with special emphasis on individuals and organizations who have long been interested in the hospital's important role in the community.

He made it clear that no firms or foundations, who are already contributors to the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund, would be contacted, for they are already represented in the $1,840,000 which the Fund has allocated to Children's for its new property.

Pastor Celebrates
25th Anniversary

Members of Ascension Lutheran Church in Birmingham Sunday honored their pastor, Rev. E. W. Nuelken, on his 25th anniversary in the ministry with a surprise pot-luck.

Friends and members of his first church, Redemption Lutheran in Detroit, joined in the celebration.

The Rev. E. N. Schulte, who had been associate pastor with Rev. Nuelken at Redemption Lutheran, and who is now pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran in Detroit, addressed the group at a special after-dinner service.

REV. NUELKEN has been pastor of Ascension Lutheran since April, 1958. He resides with his wife and son on Amberst Road in Birmingham.

Heads MPA

New president of the Michigan Press Association is James M. Tagg, publisher of the Alma Record. He was elected at the recent 94th annual meeting, MPA at Kellogg Center in East Lansing. Other officers are John Batdorff, Traverse City Record-Eagle, president-elect; Vidian Row, Fremont Times Indicator, vice president; Harry Weinbaum, Courier Newspapers, Detroit, treasurer. The Birmingham Eccentric is a member of MPA.

Two Scouts
To Receive
Eagle Badges

Eagle badges will be awarded two youths of Boy Scout Troop No. 1062 of Birmingham for the first time in the history of the troop.

Rick Garchow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Garchow, 1805 S. Eton, Birmingham, and Jim Samman, 1925 S. Birchwood, Beverly Hills, will be presented the badges at a 7:30 p.m. Court of Honor Feb. 7 in First Methodist Church.

Both their fathers are the present and former scoutmasters, respectively, who have led the troop for the past three years.

PRESENTATION of the Eagle Badges as well as several other scouting awards will be made by Merritt D. Hill, 965 E. Glenvarry Circle, Bloomfield Township, vice president and general manager of Ford Motor Co.'s Tractor and Implement Division in Birmingham.

One of the nation's outstanding scouters, Hill is a winner of the Antelope and Silver Beaver Awards and is president of the Detroit Council of Boy Scouts of America.

B'ham, Troy Sign
Water Agreement

Birmingham city commissioners Monday night approved an agreement which provides for continuation of the sale of water to Troy from the Walker well on Maple Road in that city.

Troy commissioners had already approved the agreement, which provides for the sale of a minimum of eight million cubic feet of water per year to Troy for five years. Rate will be set at 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

'Petty' Fines
Source of Resentment

To the Editor:

The article in The Eccentric (Jan. 28) relative to the police ticketing citizens for minor parking infractions while they are attending services at Holy Name Church on Sunday mornings merits some comment.

During the Christmas holidays, my wife parked her car in front of the post office just long enough to mail a package.

A 15 minute parking sign was overhead and she had used the convenience many times before; on the occasion mentioned, it was in the early evening and dark.

On her return, she and another motorist had been ticketed, and they were informed that the sign had been changed during the day.

ON ANOTHER occasion, we parked in a municipal parking lot, put the required coin in a meter and went to a theatre and assumed that we were set for the evening.

On our return, another ticket for overtime parking.

Our neighbor was driving the children to school and received a ticket for driving 27 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone.

These things may sound petty, and they are (on the part of the police department), but very annoying to people who wish to patronize Birmingham merchants, attend theaters, etc., rather than be compelled to go to other areas for services.

A FRIENDLY admonition from an officer would go a long way in cases of minor infractions to establish good relations between citizens of communities and their law enforcement officers. These petty fines create resentment.

When will our public officials learn the meaning of that little word spoken by Abraham Lincoln: "This Nation of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Oakland Students
Many at Eastern

Six southeastern Michigan counties accounted for more than 87 per cent of the students enrolled at Eastern Michigan University during the 1961 fall semester.

Oakland County's total for 1961 was 456 as compared to 487 in the fall of 1960. The remaining five counties supplying a high percentage of students are Wayne, Washtenaw, Macomb, Monroe and Lenawee.

Truth has only to change hands a few times to become fiction.
