

Franklin Church Circles Schedule Month's Meetings

FRANKLIN—Eather Circle and Sarah Circle of the Franklin Community Church will both meet Feb. 8 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Kenneth Bailey and Mrs. George Howard will be hostesses at 30430 S. Greenbriar to the Eather Circle. Members will continue the study and discussion of Theodore E. Matson's book, "Edge of the Edge". They are also requested to bring pens along for work on a Valentine project for patients of the Pontiac State Hospital.

Mrs. Frank Young of 32647 Franklin Road will entertain the Sarah Circle. Finishing touches to a Valentine project for the Cass Avenue Community Methodist Church will be worked on.

MARY-MARTHA. Rebecca and Ruth Circles will all meet Feb. 13 for luncheon at noon.

Civic Committee Seeks Candidates In Franklin

FRANKLIN — Fritz Geib was named 1962 chairman of the Franklin Citizens Committee last week.

Reactivated to serve as an impartial group of civic leaders, the FC committee will make every effort to provide voters with a choice of at least two candidates to run for every post open in the March 12 village election.

Representing local organizations are Arthur Marshall, committee vice-president; Mrs. Preston Dozier, secretary and Ludwig Tischer, Chester Hard, Mrs. M. R. Scott, Adam Schabel, Gordon McAlpine and Gordon Titaworth.

In the next few weeks this group will contact persons interested in running for village office. Village president, four councilmen (three two-year terms, one one-year term), clerk, treasurer and assessor will be elected.

The committee will assist candidates to file petitions before the Feb. 15 deadline. Anyone interested in running for one of these posts may notify a member of the FC committee.

Honor Presidents

FRANKLIN — More than 250 Franklinites had a ball Saturday night at the Birmingham Country Club. Celebrating the silver anniversary of the Franklin Community Association, they came early for cocktails and stayed late for dinner, dancing and to sing. The event honored Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McAlpine for two years of leadership as past president and hailed Dr. Ralph Smith and Mrs. Smith as their successors.

Village Players to Hold Supper Meeting Friday

FRANKLIN — Franklin Village Players supper meeting this Friday at Franklin School will provide a talent show case with two one-act plays taking the stage.

Starting at 7:45 for a cabaret style dinner arranged for by Richard Casey, Players will formulate plans for their annual spring offering and constitute an appreciative audience for the casts directed by Mrs. Faye Hawk and Paul Settle.

All things considered, especially the fickle weather, the PTA has set Feb. 5 as a tentative date for their next meeting. Though they've scheduled Mrs. Naomi Erdman to speak on "How You Can Help Johnny Read"—the actual time and place will be officially announced through sent-home notices from the school.

Table-hopping at the annual President's Hall and Silver Anniversary party netted interesting news.

Saturday was also the wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Adams and N. Cromwell, who elected to join revelers at the Birmingham Country Club to celebrate the occasion.

Mrs. Coleman Porter's leg cast, more glamorous than most tree-gay black lace, provided a firm underpinning for the "Twist". A skilling casualty, she wasn't about to miss the fun of the Ball and didn't.

Ice-bound roads failed to deter about 50 neighbors Friday from attending the "office" party held by Mrs. Fred Ziegel on Garden Way. Extending well into the day, the party honored three newcomers, Mrs. R. C. Meier formerly of Greenbriar was welcomed to the Colony Hill area along with new-to-Franklin Mrs. Forrest Palmers and Mrs. Harry Phillips.

Getting Saturday evening off to an early start, pre-pre parties were held.

Past-president of the Franklin Community Association, Gordon McAlpine and Mrs. McAlpine hosted the entire board of directors and their wives for cocktails at their home on Wing Lake Road keeping in tradition.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green of Woodlore entertained a large group also for a touch of togetherness.

At the Thomas Lepine home on 13 Mile Road, the pre-party grew and grew as guests brought friends and friends brought friends to join the evening's fun.

Folk living along the ridge on Franklin Park Drive are singing praises of Leo Wischman and his frisky truck. Wischman undertook to sand and salt the interior roads of that personally so his neighbors could maneuver the icy roads.

Oliver Garwood endeared himself in the same way to his neighbors in the Balsam Road area.

Kathie Garwood spent last weekend skiing at Nulu Nulu near Petoskey, Mary Cook and Barbara Winkel will be heading for Boyne this week, due for a holiday after finals at U of M.

They're battling down at the Bates home on 13 Mile as daughter Bonnie is bringing in an invasion of friends from the Ann Arbor campus.

Franklin Resident's Art Work Will Be In One-Man Show

Mrs. Benjamin Shwayder of Franklin, professionally known as Bev Shwayder, will have her solo one-man show with a preview and reception at the Grinnell Gallery, Detroit, on Monday from 3 to 8 p.m. The show will continue for several weeks.

At her first show in October, 1959, all of her paintings, consisting of oils, water colors and easels, were sold on opening day of the exhibit.

Her present art show which will exhibit approximately 22 oil paintings, has taken more than two years of preparation.
