OK Plan for Handling Baldwin School Traffic

Birmingham city commissioners Monday night accepted a solution for alleviating traffic congestion in front of Baldwin School.

On Jan. 22, the commission received a petition from residents in the vicinity of the school requesting a re-evaluation of traffic regulations effective in front of the school.

Petitioners referred in particular to facilities for parents driving cars to deliver and pick up children.

They suggested that school buses load at the rear entrance or that regulations be changed to permit "standing for 10 minutes only."

IN HIS REPORT to the commission, Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley said the school principal, Arthur Koller, had advised him that the buses must load and unload in front of the school because they must make "runs" to other schools as soon as they complete their trips to Baldwin.

"Due to the lack of proper ingress and egress at the rear of the Baldwin School," Moxley said, "such a change for the buses would be impractical at this time."

Moxley said facilities at the rear of the school also are not desirable for loading or unloading private vehicles.

"STANDING FOR 10 minutes only" signs would open up the now limited parking space for short term parking demand in the area, he said.

"During certain periods it would be conceivable that so many spaces would be filled that even the school buses would have difficulty in finding a place to park for loading or unloading."

The most satisfactory solution, Moxley said, would be to leave the "no parking" regulations as they now exist.

Parents should be permitted to "stand" in the space provided for that purpose as long as they do not block the school buses from the space or from crosswalks or Maple traffic, the chief stated.

School officials agreed to cooperate and to urge parents to do likewise.

Multi-Million Airport Proposed For Pontiac Area

Plans for a proposed 50-million-dollar international airport in Oakland County were unveiled to the Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

Philip E. Rowston, Pontiac Mayor, and Jim Robbins, a Royal Oak industrialist, told the supervisors that options have already been taken on part of the land for the 3,000-acre field. Rowston said the field would serve the Detroit-Pontiac-Ft. Worth-Huron areas.

THE SITE of the development would be in Pontiac and Orion Townships, three miles northeast of Pontiac.

The site is bounded by M-24, the new Chrysler Expressway, Waldon and Joslyn Roads.

It would be about 25 miles from the heart of downtown Detroit.

Robbins said it would be five years before commercial planes could use the new facilities and ten before they would be completed.
