Edison Promotes B'ham Resident

Arthur H. Clark, 2536 Yorkshire Road, Birmingham, has been appointed assistant general superintendent of Detroit Edison's construction and maintenance department.

Clark, former assistant to the general superintendent, succeeds

Harold S. Jensen who has retired. He joined Edison in 1935 as a cadet engineer and the following year was assigned as mechanic foreman in power plant construction.

In 1946 he was assigned to the Marysville Power Plant where he served first as maintenance engineer and later as assistant plant superintendent.

He was named to the production department staff in 1953 and given responsibility for reviewing and re-organizing the company's power plant maintenance program. He was assigned to the construction and maintenance department as assistant to the general superintendent in September, 1961.

Town-House Co-op Opens

A new 40 unit co-operative Town House development in Royal Oak was opened to the public last week. Located at 13 Mile between Elmhurst and Benjamin, the development, Georgetown North, is a project of Field Detroit Development Co.

Each unit consists of a living room, dining room, electric kitchen, two bedrooms, bath and powder room.

The kitchen features a drop-in oven and range, refrigerator with freezer compartment, stainless steel sink, incinerator, and garbage disposal.

The master bedroom is equipped with a walk-in closet containing two separate built-in wardrobes and full dresser mirrors.

Different roof elevations, offsets and brick treatment, give each unit a feeling of individuality.

A model of the apartment is open daily and Sunday from noon to 8 p.m.
