Concert Reception

Miss Claire Coci (left), internationally acclaimed organ virtuoso, visits with concert-goers during a reception following her recent Birmingham recital at St. James Episcopal Church. Pictured with Miss Coci are Mrs. G. E. Montgomery, 514 Park, Birmingham, public relations director, and Kent McDonald, St. James organist-choir-master and concert series musical director. The next program in St. James' concert series will be a presentation of the "St. John Passion" by the St. James Choir and Detroit Symphony orchestral ensemble April 1.

Methodist Women Church Celebrates 15th Year Sunday

The Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village will celebrate its 15th anniversary at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday. Its organization in 1947, the church has grown to a membership of 813 and recently dedicated its second addition, consisting of eight church school classrooms.

The Rev. Dr. John D. Rose has been pastor since the founding of the church and the Rev. Philip Gentile joined the staff four years ago as associate minister in charge of education.

A SPECIAL feature of the anniversary services will be the Armin Strom Quartet, consisting of Adele, 16, Paul and Richard, 17, and Otto, 18. In addition, Richard will play a cello solo and the quartet will join the church choir in singing to present Handel's "Lift Up Your Heads," under the direction of Bernard Lesley.

A nine-week series of Wednesday evening programs, featuring the "Living Christ" series is being held at Cross of Christ Lutheran Church in Bloomfield Hills.
