

Local Artists Exhibit Work

The Detroit Institute of Arts will be the scene through Sunday for Michigan Artist-Craftsmen's 10th exhibition. Dorothe Del Gaudio of E. Maple Road, Birmingham received the Helen J. Hill Memorial Prize for her orange, green and mustard floss rug entry.

An honorable mention was given to Tom Stearns, 1522 Kirkway, Bloomfield Hills for his blanket with unspan wool. Entries from Bloomfield Hills were Roberta Lohlin, Howard Tolstson, James Zensla, Howard Brown, Michael Lackman, Arlen Lynn, Naida McSherry, Mary Phillips and Lucy Warner.

ENTRIES from Birmingham were William Pitney, Frank Saffranek, Robert Sedstrom, Margaret Valpey, Betsy Webster, David Brown, Margaret Dean, Fred Fenster, Robert Wiley, Dorothy Currie, Carolyn Hall, Patricia Hewlett and Thomas Hewlett.

Sailorettes Plan Bridge Party

The Detroit Yacht Club Sailorettes have completed plans for their Telephone Bridge Party scheduled for Saturday. Invitations have gone out to all members bidding them to invite guests to enjoy an afternoon—dessert and coffee at noon followed by cards at 1 p.m.

This pre-season party is an opportunity for members to get together socially and mix a good game of bridge with sailing talk while the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair are still too full of ice for anything except ice fishing and high water sailing.

Sailorlette Chairman, Mrs. Wray H. Bailey and Mrs. Thomas J. Pearsall, Social Chairman are in charge of arrangements.

The party hostesses from Birmingham are Mrs. J. A. Gloor and Mrs. John Dietiker.

Art Courses Set for March

Have you ever had the desire to meet, converse and study with outstanding creators, performers and scholars of the arts? Conversations in the Arts, '62, an activity of Detroit Adventure, offers a unique opportunity as it begins its fourth year on March 4.

DETROIT area residents will be able to choose from a rich selection of stimulating subjects in the fields of art, dance, literature, architecture, sculpture, crafts, theatre, music and broadcasting.

More than 30 Conversations will meet in the city cultural center area, Huntington Woods, Grosse Pointe and Birmingham. Members of these groups will get together once a week. Each Conversation runs six weeks.

'Here to Hawaii' Theme of Program

Mrs. Larry Gelstein opened her home on 2792 Pine Heights Drive to members of the Pine Lake Branch of WNYCA. Mrs. John Wyzgaski and Mrs. Larry Gelstein Sr. were honored guests.

The hostess presented each guest with a colorful lei in keeping with the Hawaiian table setting and program of the afternoon.

'Here to Hawaii' was the travel film shown by co-hostess Mrs. Kenneth Snoblin. Four officers attended the council luncheon at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. They were Mrs. Clarence Suhr, Mrs. Carl Giese, Mrs. Russell Kack and Mrs. Frank Grosse.

Couples Dance Club

A Couples Dance Club is being organized by the Oakland Branch YWCA. The group will meet the fourth Saturday of the month beginning Saturday, from 8:30-11:30. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kopta will give one-half hour of instruction from 8:30-9:00 each time and will remain with the group throughout the evening.
