

Broomfield Criticizes Philippine Situation

WASHINGTON — A "power play" to block help for America's best ally in the Far East is developing in Congress, warned Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County).

Broomfield, a member of the Far East Subcommittee, House Foreign Affairs Committee, said that "certain Congressmen" are attempting to force the Philippines to buy American tobacco whether they want it or not.

"Further, there is good reason to believe that the purchase of this tobacco is contrary to Philippine law," said Broomfield.

BROOMFIELD said "certain Southern Congressmen" are attempting to:

1. Block passage of a $73 million Philippine War Claims Bill. He said the war claims bill was halted off the House agenda last week because of the objection of Southern Congressmen.
2. Seek a cut in the Philippines sugar quota which would be a "grave economic blow" to the islands and their farmers.
3. End economic assistance to the Philippines under the foreign aid program.

"THERE IS NO doubt of the fact that the Philippines has been our most consistent, our most important friend in the Far East," said Broomfield.

"Yet we have certain of our Congressmen taking pot shots at this good friend, simply so that they can pick up a few votes at some next November."

Broomfield said delay of the war claims bill "is a shame and a blot on American foreign policy. This is not a Federal hand-out. This is a debt we owe to the Philippine people for the damage done by our bombers, our artillery and our troops during World War II."

HE SAID that some Congressmen are attempting to use passage of the War Claims Bill "as a lever" to force the Philippines to accept nine million pounds of Virginia leaf tobacco now on ships in Manila harbor.

The Philippine legislature passed an embargo on the importation of leaf tobacco in 1953 because the Philippines was capable of raising its own domestic supply. Broomfield said that the Philippines was urged to raise its own tobacco by American foreign aid experts.

in 1950, and the program was so successful that the Philippines soon found it could produce enough to fill its needs."

Broomfield said that the former president of the Philippines, Carlos Garcia, who was defeated last fall in national elections, entered into an agreement for the purchase of the American tobacco "despite the fact that it appears to be a clear violation of Philippine law."

THE NEW PRESIDENT, Diosdado Macapagal, has ordered the tobacco imports stopped and has agreed that the American tobacco can be re-exported to other countries.

"It could be seized as an illegal shipment under Philippine law," said Broomfield. "But the Philippine president has been kind enough to consent to let the American exporters keep their tobacco and sell it somewhere else."

Broomfield said the Philippines "has been on our side in the world struggle against Communism, consistently and strongly."

"BUT INSTEAD of helping our friends, we find that some people want to punish them for being so strongly on our side in the ideological fence."

"Meanwhile, we attempt to do business with our foreign aid money. Is it any wonder that the people of the Philippines are confused by our treatment of a loyal ally?"

Broomfield said he will claim all attempts to defeat the War Claims Bill "to punish a friend for being a friend."

"WE HAVE BEEN more, than generous to former enemies," said Broomfield. "Why pick on our allies of proven loyalty?"

AMC Names Teague Head Of Styling

Richard A. Teague of Birmingham has been appointed director of automotive styling for American Motors Corp.

Teague, who has been primarily responsible for long-range product planning, as assistant, automotive styling director since 1959, will direct styling activities for all lines of Rambler compact cars—Ambassador, Classic and American.

"For the past three years, Teague has devoted his major departmental effort to the coordination of advance styling with advanced engineering," said R. A. Chairman, executive vice president, who announced the appointment.

TEAGUE, 38, entered the field of automotive styling with General Motors in 1948 following extensive experience in the preliminary design of aircraft and missiles with California aircraft firms. After two years in the advanced styling studios of Oldsmobile and Cadillac, he joined Packard in 1950 as chief stylist. He became director of Packard styling in 1954. In 1957 he joined the Chrysler Corp. as chief stylist for the Chrysler Division.

A native of California, Teague is an alumnus of the Art Center School in Los Angeles. He also studied at the University of Southern California.

While his professional interest is in advanced automotive styling, Teague pursues an off-time hobby of collecting and restoring antique cars.

HE IS A member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and is active in a number of national and foreign art associations.

Teague lives at 4740 W. Maple Road, with his wife, Marion, and two sons, Ricky, 9, and Jeffrey, 6, both students at Walnut Lake School.

Since 1958, University of Michigan language specialists have helped train about 1,000 native speakers of English and Southeast Asia.

Troy High Offers Survival, Disaster Training Courses

A medical emergency course in survival and disaster training is being offered at Troy High School. The course will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Tuesdays and includes instruction and practice in several areas.

THE CITY of Troy, in cooperation with the Oakland County Office of Civil Defense and the Oakland County Health Department, is sponsoring the course.

The areas that will be covered include casualty care systems, first aid, shock and burns, psychological first aid, emergency birth, radiation and fallout decontamination, and medical and nursing aspects of radiation sickness.

Hypodermic techniques, blood pressure techniques, intravenous techniques, contact or isolation techniques, emergency sanitation and psychological warfare are on the subject list along with a field exercise — the covering of a school to emergency hospital."

MRS. HERMINIO Rodriguez Jr., of the Oakland County Health Department and the Oakland County Civil Defense Office, is director of training for the course and will teach some of the classes. Qualified instructors from the area and local doctors will teach sections of the course.

The classes began last week. Interested persons can join by attending the next session.
