Kaline Scores In Franklin's Decor Contest

FRANKLIN—The judges of the Christmas outdoor decoration contest held Dec. 28 by the Franklin Community Association were in the dark as to names of winners but eventually found they had picked tiger outfielder Al Kaline's house for top prize winner.

The committee was headed by Bloomfield J. P. Albert Carr, Mrs. Mary Souder and Mrs. Joseph Jett, all non-Franklin residents. Their mission was to select the five most effective and original outdoor decorations for the Christmas season. Three were to receive prizes of merchandise from the business and two to earn honorable mention.

The choice wasn't easy. After driving up and down 28 miles of country roads on a cold wintry night, they came up with about 20 prospects.

With no names to go by, only locations pinpointed on a map, they met at the Bert Coburn home to discuss finalists and cast their votes.

It wasn't until the next day, when association representative Coburn retraced their steps to the Craigie and Mrs. William Dickie as co-hostesses.

Mrs. Ludwig Tischer will continue the review of the book "Edge of the Edge".

Sarah Circle also meets Jan. 11 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Le-land McElroy, 30549 N. Greenbrier.

houses indicated, did he or the committee know they had selected the home of Al Kaline on West Haverford Drive; the Ralph McGuthers on Irving Drive and Jack DiGiovanni on Robert's Drive for the first three prize winners, in that order.

R. S. Scherges of Robert's Drive and Robert Wallace of Wellington were awarded honorable mention. Even more surprised were the prizewinners themselves. Most of them didn't realize their decorations were being judged. Coburn had to introduce himself and explain the idea of the contest upon each presentation. The association will probably repeat the contest next year.
