

To be guided by your conscience provides you personal security that guidance by legal statutes alone can never give. For the main laws of the land are, by their very nature, too flexible to avoid some slight departing from Truth, and the men and women of every age have declared that Conscience, which is attuned to one's Divinity, is the safest guide.

Fashion Event Gets Underway

"Fashionscope, Spring 1962," will be the title for Detroit's most authoritative spring showings scheduled March 13-14 in the auditorium of the J. L. Hudson Co. This 28th annual event will be staged traditionally to benefit the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and sponsored by its Women's Association. Mrs. Richard W. Tucker, association ways and means chairman, heads this year's fashion teas. Madelyn Coe, Hudson's famed fashion coordinator, will serve as commentator.

Announcement of the showings was made Wednesday at a fun get-together working session and luncheon for committee members at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club by Mrs. Francis W. Smith, association president. Everyone pitched in to get invitations out early but all talk was of the new innovations to be revealed at the shows. Advance hints are of new shapes and colors to intrigue fashion-minded women, with great emphasis on pale tones.

Working on the event include Mesdames Lawrence Verdier, Donald Blain, Henry Klein, Raymond Duffy Jr. and Milton Volkens. Serving on the ticket committee are Mesdames Robert Aiken, E. B. Alpern, Herbert Carr, Ferdinand Cignelli, Walker L. Cister, William J. Collins, Alfred Covert, Fred Crawford, Kenneth Cunningham Jr., Harold Daniels, Ralph David, William Evans, Marshall Hess and William Lilly. Still others are Mesdames Arnold Lungershausen, Jerome Remick Jr., Alan Schwartz, Joseph Vance Jr., Everett Wells, R. A. Wrigley, Murray Young, Carl Zuber and Miss Isabelle Hoersch.

Discussions To Be Held At Baldwin

To help mothers guide their children toward the best available books, Baldwin Public Library is inaugurating a weekly series of discussions.

Children's librarians from the Mary Lambie Room will lead the talks in the library auditorium at 10 a.m. Thursdays, beginning Feb. 1.

"One of the questions librarians are asked most frequently," said Miss Jeanne Lloyd, director of the library, "is how to select books for children."

MOTHERS want to know which classics they should encourage their children to read, who are the distinguished illustrators of children's books, and which of the hundreds of new books are suitable for a child of a specific age.

THE SERIES begins Feb. 1 with a talk on distinguished children's illustrators, books for reading aloud and for the beginning reader. On Feb. 8, the librarians will discuss selecting books for the eight to 12-year-old.

Reading for ages 12 and up will be the subject on Feb. 15. A panel discussion based on questions from mothers attending the meetings is scheduled for the final session Feb. 22.

LIBRARIANS from the Mary Lambie Room will lead the talks are Mrs. Charles R. Birch, Mrs. David T. Wild, Mrs. John P. King and Mrs. Donald G. Howarth.

Registrations for the discussion group, to be limited to 25 persons, will be accepted at the Boys' and Girls' Department at the library. Because the sessions will last approximately one hour, mothers are advised to make arrangements for care of small children away from the library.

Home from Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans of Birmingham were recent vacationers at the Dorado Beach Hotel in Puerto Rico.

Katherine Flaherty Weds Bernard Berry

St. Hugo of the Hills Church was the scene Saturday morning for the marriage of Katherine Frances Flaherty and Bernard Daily Berry. The Rev. Francis T. Stack officiated at the 11 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis Flaherty of Pon Valley Road, Bloomfield Hills. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Joseph Berry of New Haven, Conn.

THE BRIDE appeared in a gown of white silk mist tulle, fashioned with a controlled belt skirt and chapel length train. Acon lace applied with pearls and crystal beads accented the fitted princess bodice and panner pleating at the sides of the softly draped skirt created an interesting effect.

A pillow held a bouffant veil, shoulder length of imported French silk illusion. She carried a coronal, also bouquet of roses and carnations.

MRS. JACK R. Orben, cousin of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor. Julia Frances Flaherty, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, and Josephine Ann Flaherty served as her sister's maid of honor.

Attendees were attired in emerald green velveteen gowns designed for the occasion, black and three quarter length sleeves. Their headpieces were designed in matching velveteen.

John Francis Berry, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Bradford Ricketson, Thomas Landry, Warren D. Calhoun and Robert Denney.

A RECEPTION at Bloomfield Hills Country Club followed the morning ceremony. For traveling, Katherine wore a tweed dress with black accessories. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Jamaica and will live in New York City.

Katherine is a graduate of Marymount Secondary School, Tarrytown, N. Y., and Duchesne Residence School, NYC. She also attended the University of Detroit.

BERNARD attended Choate and is a graduate of Canterbury and Georgetown University Schools of Foreign Service. He served in the U. S. Army in Germany for three years as First Lieutenant.
