(To the girl who has just become engaged)

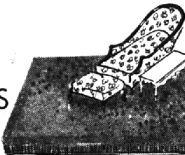

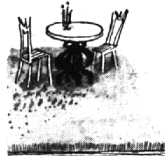

Let us be tactful together! Let us mutually avoid embarrassment. It is easy.

Come in and record your gift preferences in our Wedding Gift Registry! Then all you will have to say to those who ask is: "My preferences are in LaBelles' Wedding Gift Registry."

We can then purvey your wishes and also keep track of selections already made so you will NOT have that hassle of so many wedding days: excessive duplications in gifts.

Residents Have Key Roles In Anniversary Luncheon

Two prominent Bloomfield Hills women will have key roles when the Women's Committee of United Community Services marks its 27th year of continuous community work at a noon luncheon on Feb. 5 at Masonic Temple's Crystal Ballroom. They are Mrs. Ray R. Eppert of 265 Lone Pine Court, and Mrs. Worth Kramer of 4955 Ardmore Drive.

Some 500 men and women are expected to be on hand at the widely-attended annual event to hear principal speaker Elie Abel, noted Washington news correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company.

CONSIDERED unique in the nation for its long and outstanding record of service to the Detroit community, the UCS Women's Committee has as many as 5,000 women from every section of the metropolitan area taking part in its year-round activities.

Its efforts are devoted to educating the community about the work and value of all health and welfare agencies and to encourage women in accepting responsibility in community service.

Six door prizes will be given away during the three day show. Jack Spoor of Henrietta Street, Birmingham, will be one of the exhibitors.

AS ADDED attractions to this Hillcrest Antique Show, the glass blowers will be featuring their ancient art, the weavers will be there, special talented china painters will demonstrate as to how to replace lost cups and other collection parts, over 300 old time guns will be shown, special floral arrangements will be demonstrated.

One button collection of over 12,000 buttons will be shown for the first time and the old candy shoppe will feature new goodies.
