

Picnic Supper Rained Out

Birmingham-Bloomfield members of the Alumnae Club met for a picnic supper last week in the gardens of Mrs. Clement C. Richard on Lone Pine Road. Torrential cloudbursts sent guests, including Mrs. Cyril Lewis (from left), Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom, Kay Vedler, Dr. Mary Ann Cusack and Mrs. Katherine O'Connor running for cover. Gave the group a chance, though, to discuss more fully the benefit lecture series AHRUSA is sponsoring next fall, Oct. 1, 15 and 29, at Kingswood Auditorium. The series will be conducted by the Continuing Education Department of MSU.

Gardeners to Meet At Mrs. Richards'

"Flower Arrangements for the Home" will be the subject of the talk given by Birmingham florist John Moss at the Monday meeting of Bloomfield Hills Branch, WNFGA, in the home of Mrs. Clement Richard on Lone Pine Road.

Each member has been asked to bring her most beautiful rose in a foil-wrapped jar to be used in the horticultural program at Pontiac State Hospital.

Gardening, along with civic improvement projects, are major interests of the group between meetings. Recently plantings of miniature flowering crab trees, dwarf yews and ground covering of myrtle in front of the Hasden Lodge entrance to Vaughan School were finished.

Mrs. Lester A. Colman, who lives in the neighborhood and is an inveterate gardener herself, and Mrs. John B. Hammond have delegated themselves to keep close check on the new landscaping during the summer months.

The Orchid Award from the Michigan Division of WNFGA for all around excellence has been given the Bloomfield Branch.

LATHRUP-CRANBROOK VILLAGE

New WNFGA Club 'Paints the Town'

CRANBROOK VILLAGE — A very happy and justifiably proud group were the 18 girls who "straddled the fence" on Monday of last week. All members of the newly-formed Cranbrook Village North WNFGA, they undertook to paint the stretch of fence along 13 Mile Road—about three blocks worth, both sides.

Painters were Marge Pelletier, Helen Saarengren, Lillian Smith, "Benny" Bryan, Clara Kline and her sister Rose, Betty Foster, Lynn Rusler, Mary Osaroux, Esther Lickly, Eleanor Gailer, Abiona Getsoff (and her husband), Marian Clark, Marie Thaldorf, Dorothy Reibetz and Esther Craft.

Assorted assistants included young Jim Craft and John Pelletier and Edna Heist who spent the Sunday before the workday scraping and preparing the fence for the brushwork artists; and Mervin Kline, chief paint-mixer and bucket-biller.

In addition to loads of fun, the garden club earned a fringe benefit: proceeds will be used to improve the entrance to the subdivision with shrubs, trees and flowers.

Last Tuesday evening the Teen Club held its annual new comers meeting in the social hall of the school. The new freshmen were invited to attend the meeting which was followed by a skit and dancing.

CRANBROOK VILLAGE — Mrs. Paul A. Pelletier of Northgate Drive returned recently from a three week visit in Santa Monica, Calif. She was the houseguest of her aunt, Mrs. C. L. Miniger who had spent six weeks visiting in the east before she and Mrs. Pelletier flew to California.

WALNUT LAKE

Senior Girl Scout Troop 360 spent 10 exciting days on a recent trip to the Great Smokey Mountain National Park. Camping all the time they were gone, they enjoyed the Cumberland Falls and Cherokee Indian craft at Cherokee, N. Carolina. The highlights of the trip were visits with some of the descendants of the early mountain settlers.

Those on the trip included Marsha Oprin, Janet Eubank, Pam Marsh, Beth McKenney, Janice Biel, Sharon Stolberg and Margaret Kasser. Leaders of the group were Mrs. Julian Orenstein and Mrs. James R. Roberts. Joan Smith assisted the leaders.

Mike 12, while Theresa 10, Anne eight, Paul four and Lee, one year accompanied their mother. Their days were filled with visiting relatives, parties, cook outs and even a trip to the zoo.

BACK HOME in their Bungalow Road residence are Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Ringland. The Ringlands bought an apartment in Ft. Lauderdale Fla. last Feb. They spent the month of April in Florida picking out furnishings for it and then returned to enjoy for two weeks their new home away from home.

Visitor from Pakistan

Current accent on improving international relations via exchange students is beginning to make Europe seem as close as the next bus stop, with summer commuting for our young people as casual as a trip to the nearest drive-in.

Direct result of Jeff Fisher's summer spent in Karachi a year ago was the arrival this week of his Pakistan "brother" Dady Mama. Return visit got under way Tuesday, and climax of the week's reunion will take place this weekend when the boys drive over to Chicago where Jeff will crew for the Detroit Boat Club in a race against Lincoln Park Boat Club. Dady has cousins in the Windy City whom he'll visit before taking off for San Francisco and thence home.

... and Some from Germany

In the meantime, Jeff's parents, the Robert J. Fishers of Bloomfield Village, have coordinated a program here in town for 16 young visitors from Germany. The boys are on their way to a summer camp at Camp Dudley, Lake Champlain, N. Y. Dudley, oldest boys' summer camp in the country and housing a number of Birmingham-Bloomfield alums, has initiated an exchange program of its own this year.

Host families for the boys while here—they arrived Tuesday and are leaving for camp sometime today—include Mr. and Mrs. Morris C. Parry, the John Gilravs, Mr. and Mrs. William Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. John LeFevre, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lerchen, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Pitts and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walker.

Yesterday they celebrated the Fourth with a tour of Greenfield Village, then out to Orchard Lake Country Club for buffet supper and fireworks.

At Home and Abroad

A fleeting six days comprised Gretchen Ruhl's stay in her hometown following final classes at Wellesley. Here long enough to spruce up her wardrobe and repack bags, she then took off to serve as bridesmaid for first one classmate (in New Jersey) and then another (in Washington, D.C.).

Following wedding festivities, she spent several days in Essex Falls, N. J., with former Birminghamites Mr. and Mrs. Victor Brink, then, mid-June, left to spend the rest of the summer in Europe.

Intensive for the first portion of her trip is piano study under Dame Myra Hess in Petersfield, Hampshire, England.

Come the first of August, she'll be joined there by her mother, Mrs. H. Simms Ruhl, who claims they'll "embark" on a slow boat (12 days) to Naples, pick up a car and in the same leisurely manner tour Italy, France and Norway. They'll be back in time for Gretchen to enter her senior year at Wellesley.

Sister Kathie, incidentally, is sticking by the United States this summer, busily involved in being a counselor-in-training at Interlochen.

Mass Farewell

That our town's population is as transient as a trolley is a well-established fact, but neighbors on Georgina in Beverly Hills came up with an all-time high this month: Five families moving off the street, one new couple moving in.

The John Baers have set up housekeeping in Novi; the Eugene Paulsons are off to Philadelphia; the LeGrand Whitneys have moved to Franklin and the W. Desmond McAlisters are in their new home in Bloomfield Hills. Newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. George Kachadurian, who recently arrived from Royal Oak.

Result of such activity was a mass farewell party organized by the Wallace Wheelers and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rees, enlisting aid of all available talent, including the Beverly Hills police.

Their function was reprieve of the street for the biggest block party the subdivision has ever had.

Festivities took place last week, with music via loudspeaker, dancing on the green and lobster flown in from Maine.
