Man-Made Lake Victoria Nears Final Completion

Lake Victoria, Michigan's latest man-made lake is in the final stages of completion. It was announced today by Central Realty Co., Lansing, developers of the project. Located in Clinton County, the lake proper will cover 160 acres of the 600 acre resort development. In late 1961, earthmovers scooped and moved thousands of tons of earth to form the lake basin. To start the flow of water into the basin a 600' long dam was built to back up the waters of Alder Creek.

A SPOKESMAN for the Central Realty Co. said the waters are rising according to expectations and will attain an average depth of 15 feet. The water taken from Alder Creek will not affect the water supply to area residents.

The dam construction makes it possible to constantly control the lake level by increasing or decreasing the flow of water through the dam outlet. With a mere turn of a wheel the water level may be lowered periodically to allow hot sunbathers to clean their beaches and repair docks.

The expanding of waters over the 160 acres of vegetated farm land will supply excellent feeding grounds for the bluegills and largemouth bass, to be stocked later.

THE LAKE area is primarily sand and gravel, and will produce natural sand beaches. The area now covered by the Lake Victoria development was originally only marginal farm land, and was used primarily for grazing purposes. Putting the land to use as resort lake property promises to be a boon to the surrounding economy.

New jobs are being created and additional revenue will be brought in from lake property owners, in addition to the increased business the area retailers will experience from the influx of new people. The development will produce 800 property lots.

ALTHOUGH located in wooded and isolated area, the new lake is nearby major towns; five miles from Lainsburg, 15 miles from Oshtemo and Lansing, and only 45 miles from Flint. Lake Victoria is 4th in a chain of Michigan man-made lakes developed by Central Realty Co. Others are Lake Geneva, near DeWitt, Lake Columbia, near Brooklyn, and Lake LeAnn, south of Jackson.

School Levy Opened Door for Teacher Recruitment Gains

Passage of the 11 mill school levy in 1961 has reflected positive gains in teacher recruitment, a Birmingham school official said recently.

Kenneth Nagley, director of personnel for the board of education, said that although teacher recruitment has not been completed, significant progress has been realized.

He said teacher retention, attraction of experienced teachers and attraction of teachers with MA degrees were areas where gains have been made as a result of the millage approval.
