Wells - Struck

Wedding bells and engagement rings continue to set the social pace as mid-summer marches in to strains of Lohengrin and a flash of diamonds.

Today's picture page, proof of the pudding, is The Eccentric's way of offering best wishes to pretty localites with stars in their eyes.

Paula Ruth Struck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Waldemar Struck of Hamilton Road, Birmingham, walked up the aisle of Christ Church Cranbrook Saturday afternoon to become the bride of Tobin Michael Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall J. Wells of Fairfax Road, Birmingham. The Rev. John H. Albrecht officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at Orchard Lake Country Club.

The bride wore a princess style gown of white silk organza over taffeta, fashioned with a portrait neckline, bracelet-length sleeves and fitted bodice. Appliqued Alencon lace cascaded down the bell-shaped skirt which fell into a chapel train, and her bouffant veil of illusion was secured by a taffeta rose matching her gown.

Barbara Helen Struck was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids included Mrs. William Bennett Yort of Hinsdale, Ill., and Nancy Jean Beier. They all wore linen frocks of jonquil yellow with touches of matching Swiss lace, fitted bodices, A-shaped skirts and bell sleeves.

Marshall J. Wells was best man, and ushers were Lee Roy Abernathy, Robert Jason and Robert Rakich.

Trabue - Adams

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Macon Charles Trabue Jr. will be at home in Birmingham. Preceding her marriage Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, the bride was Cynthia Sue Adams. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carman Adams of Fairfax Road, and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Macon C. Trabue of Mt. Clemens.

The bridal gown of white bouquet taffeta was accented by delicate spray embroidery of pearls and crystals marking the bodice which was designed with tiny sleeves and a Sabrina neckline. The sweeping court train was fastened at the shoulders with diminutive bows, creating a Watteau back. Her bouffant veil of French silk illusion was clasped by tiny bands of beaded Alencon lace, and she carried a crescent bouquet of white miniature carnations and ivy accented with pink sweetheart roses.

Carol Adams and Mrs. Robert G. Harris, sisters of the bride, were maid and matron of honor, respectively, and bridesmaids included Judy Newberg, Mrs. John Elden Bowman of Columbus, Ohio; Carole Deacon of Dearborn and Gaylen Trabue, sister of the bridegroom, of Mt. Clemens. They all wore turquoise silk linen with veiled matching pill-
