

For Their Memory Book

Mrs. Otis Thompson, Mrs. William Bachman Jr. and Mrs. George Squibb (from left), all past presidents of Birmingham's Junior League, posed together recently at a luncheon given in their honor at Birmingham Country Club. Ten $100 checks were presented during the afternoon to agencies with whom the League has worked closely during the past 10 years.

Concord Green Chapter Is the Tie That Binds

Along with the rapid development of new subdivisions in Bloomfield Township there seems to be a surprisingly quick development of club groups. In areas where incoming residents have been total strangers, suburban life seems to bind their interests together within a few weeks or months. This is the first full summer for almost all of the 50 homes in Concord Green subdivision, south of Square Lake Road at East-ways. Most were built last summer on half-acre lots, occupied in fall and winter months. Yet the first signs of summer weather this year brought housewives together in an attempt to form a branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association.

These new home owners have already listened with interest to guest speaker Robert Bills, professional landscape architect for the Byron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. He stressed the use of plantings and trees naturally found in the area as a logical and attractive backdrop for the new homes.

ON JULY 16 the group of 30 members, now gathering under an official charter of the national organization, adopted its goals for the coming year and came up with a unique plan for vacation cooperation. When any member of the chapter is away on vacation, other members will care for the lawn and garden of the vacationing member. In return for this service the absent member will make a contribution to the chapter's social welfare fund to aid groups in need.

The July meeting also provided an opportunity for members to use their imagination as a formal arrangement taken from her gardens. The displays provided much fun, ranging from lovely hybrid tea roses to an artistically arranged bowl of assorted stones and weeds, complete with a miniature "Lassie".

College Student Participates in Summer Program

July Soma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caesar Soma, 18215 Kirkshire, is one of sixteen Marygrove College students and graduates assisting Michigan's migrant workers this summer. She is participating in a program sponsored by the National Council of Catholic Women. The program is geared to give spiritual, social and physical aid to the thousands of migrants who come to southeastern Michigan each summer. Working under the supervision of Sister Christina, head of the sociology department at Marygrove, July has been assigned to Capac as a staff member from mid-June through August. A 1962 graduate of Marygrove, Mrs. Soma is a sociology major.

SOUTHFIELD The Optimist Club of Southfield met last Thursday evening at Howard Johnson's Restaurant on Northwestern Highway and 10 Mile Road. Approximately $8,900 was made with approximately $3,200 free and clear after expenses.
