BEVERLY HILLS
North Shore Camping Trip Exceeds Family's Expectations

By ELIZABETH YATES
MI 6-9616

The Joseph Hains and their sons, Chuckie and Ronnie, of Buckingham, have just returned from a trip that exceeded even their expectations.

Although it was their first camping trip, it will not be their last. First, they procured a Corvair Greenliner, which Hein broke in driving to the General Motors Building and back every day. This they stocked with food and water. The boys took sleeping bags and a tent, and all headed for the locks at Sault Ste. Marie where they stayed overnight.

They visited trading posts, saw moose, skunks and deer; visited Rainbow Falls and Quimet Camp, which is two miles long, 500 feet deep and 500 feet across.

They drove as far as 65 miles, at times, through the Canadian wilderness on one track road without seeing a store or gas station for miles, but the scenery is breathtaking. While camped at White Lake Park, they heard the Timber Wolves at night. They also visited Kiska Lake Falls, called the Niagara of the North, and saw the pulp mills at Terrace Bay.

AT SHILEY PARK, where they stayed overnight, they stopped in time to see moose coming in single file led by the mother moose. They visited Port Arthur and Fort Williams, then went on down to Duluth and across to visit their families at Stephens Pointe and Rib Lake, Wisconsin, where Chuckie decided to stay. His grandmother and aunt will bring him home in August, when they return the visit.

MR. AND MRS. Morris Avery and their four children, Nancy, Linda, Carol and James, who have recently moved into Huntley Community. They moved here from Grand Ledge where Mrs. Avery had been teaching for some time. Her hobbies are knitting and ceramics. She plans on continuing her teaching career here. Avery is in the engineering department of the Ford Motor Co. He enjoys hunting and sport cars.

THE HOWARD Lambles of Reedmore have had a most interesting summer beginning with a visit by their grandson, David, while his mother, Mrs. Max Sempowski, was in the hospital with his new brother, Thomas Michael.

MR. AND MRS. Daniel Hodgson Rhodes (Juanita Mixer of Morrison, Ill.) of Royal Oak announce the birth of a son, Daniel Herbert, July 6.

WHILE DAVID was at the Lambles, Mrs. Lambles' mother, Mrs. Tom Price, and her new husband visited for a week, before going on to Muskegon. Mr. and Mrs. Price were married in California in June and motored across the country to meet all the family on a three month honeymoon.
