Summertime Fun

Watermelon Preserves

Reminiscenses of childhood eating delights by Irma Davis in her "Once Over Lightly" column last week brought in the following recipe from Marjorie W. Sallie, headmistress of Bloomfield Country Day School.

Pare rind, leaving on a little of the pink. Cut into small pieces, cover with vinegar and soak overnight. Drain well in the morning.

Cut three lemons into thin slices. Cook until tender in a little of the drained vinegar.

Measure the amount of rind. Add sugar, bowl for bowl; three Tbsp. whole cinnamon broken into small pieces; three Tbsp. whole cloves and one vanilla bean (seeds removed) cut into small strips.

Let the mixture boil until the syrup is amber color. About five minutes before removing from the fire, add one-quarter pound (or more) blanched almonds.

Pour into jars and cover with paraffin.

Kitchen

walls in your kitchen, plain hardboard panels take paint beautifully because the surface is smooth, without knots or grain, and will not check or split. Whatever colors are used, the paint should be either a gloss or semigloss enamel, over a prime coat, to resist grease fumes and moisture and withstand frequent scrubbing.

Because there is often a high noise level in the kitchen, with its many hard surfaces, an acoustical ceiling makes good sense. Again, hardboard can provide a tough, easy-to-clean surface. Perforated hardboard applied over insulating batts works as well as other softer acoustical materials, but is easier to maintain and longer lasting because of dent-resistant surface.

Perforated hardboard has other uses in the kitchen, for hanging storage in storage cabinets and right on the wall. It is possible to match many solid hardboard panel finishes with perforated panels. These working walls are available even with wood-grained finished surfaces.

Famous Historical Statements

But he hath so planted his honours in their eyes and his actions in their hearts that for their tongues to be silent and not confess so much were a kind of ingrateful injury.

Shakespeare from Coriolanus

. . . the city will give them public memorials and sacrifices and honour them . . .

Plato from The Republic

Whether to hail thee a god I know not, or only a mortal.

Herodotus from The History

'Tis pity a man should be so potent that all things must give way to him; fortune therein sets you too remote from society and places you in too great a solitude.

A Few Ways To Beat Heat

Temperature getting you down these days?

Whether it's the heat or the humidity or both it's hot this time of year.

Some ideas to help beat the heat are offered by the American Medical Association:

• Wear light, loose clothing—the less the better. Stay out of the sun. • Eat your regular diet. Don't go overboard on cold cuts and salads. Drink more liquids than usual. Don't take extra salt if you have liver or kidney trouble, or a heart condition.

• Take a shower or a dip in the pool once or twice a day. It will help you cool off. • Get a lot of rest and sleep. On hot nights, put a mattress on the floor. Sometimes the air is cooler and circulates better there.

• Don't work on the lawn or garden during the hottest part of the day. Work in the early morning or at twilight. Exercise moderately. Don't overdo sports or work.

TOO LONG exposure and too much exercise in the hot sun may produce sunstroke. Prolonged excessive heat, in or out of doors, may produce heat stroke. The symptoms are the same: headache, fever, complaint that things look red.

Such strokes can be fatal. Call a physician at once. Loosen clothing and keep the victim as cool as possible until the physician arrives.

Heat prostration also is caused by getting overheated, but instead of a high fever the victim becomes cold and clammy. Prompt medical attention and keeping the patient as warm as possible until a physician arrives are important.
