

Art Goes to Market

For the art lovers who like to view their favorite works and do the weekly shopping at the same time, 21 Birmingham merchants will feature window displays.

Not only paintings will decorate the windows. Many stores will display works of sculpture, pottery and other forms of art work.

Two of Jacobson's outlets in Birmingham will have works of art—the Student shop on N. Woodward and the Main store on W. Maple.

Kay Baum, Kresge's; Shain's; Gowan's; Birmingham Paint, Glass & Wallpaper; and Triangle Birmingham gallery will feature window exhibits with an arty air.

BANKING WITH an art flavor may be transacted at the Birmingham Federal Savings; Detroit Bank & Trust and the Birmingham-Bloomfield Bank.

Inspired artists' works will be on view at the Inspiration Shop and hammers and nails to hang the paintings at Huston Hardware Co. and Birmingham Hardware.

Lake Jewelers; Himehlow's; the Prep Shop; R.B. Shops; and Village Sports & Hobby; Demco's have also scheduled exhibits.

AFTER THE weary art lover has worn out shoe leather traveling the town he can rest his tired feet, try on some new shoes and still enjoy more art work at McSweeney's and Burr Shoes.

Dean Coffin has been in the theater business for 25 years and has been associated with Jam Handy for approximately 19 years. In addition to writing and directing a variety of industrial theater projects, he has acted in and directed plays for the Detroit Players Club, the Birmingham Players and St. Dunstan's.

Surrounded by paintings and other art work, Mrs. Robert B. Bender tackles the task of setting up the festival art market on the lower level at the Birmingham Art Center.

Art Market Features Oils, Jewelry, Pottery

Art items priced from 75c to $200 will be on sale at this year's Festival Art Market.

The popular market will be housed in the lower level of the Birmingham Art Center.

Mrs. Robert B. Bender, market chairman, reports that more than 1,400 pieces of art work are going to be on sale.

ing many hours on setting up the market, predicts that this year's affair will be most successful.

She gave a special thanks to Mrs. Carl D. Rogers, Mrs. Paul Davison, and Hazel Naumann who have helped set up the Market.

Hours will be from 12 noon to 10 p.m. Thursday through Sunday.

COMBINING THEIR talents for Birmingham's fifth cultural fair sponsored by the Bloomfield Art Association, painters, sculptors, weavers, silversmiths, potters, jewelers and ceramists have submitted works.

The contributors have sent works in from as far away as Columbus, Ohio. Other artists from Grand Rapids, Lansing, Grand Ledge, and Plymouth have items for sale as well as artists from the Oakland County area.

Oil paintings are one of the biggest items to be sold, their prices range from $5 to $200.

Many well-known artists will have merchandise on display.

Stephen Davies of Flint will have a silk screen, Laura Cowman, a woodcut, Henry Segal, an oil, Lillian Hopkin, an oil, Jane Lorne, a water color and Mildred Friedman, a piece of sculpture.

Colin H. John, chairman; Betty Conn, demonstrations chairman; and Carolyn Hall, exhibition chairman; all appeared on Earl Gormaine's Friday evening show over WEXL June 8.
